Prudential Risk Rating

Medium Risk

These funds may invest in multi-asset strategies with a higher weighting in equities (or with significant derivative use), while funds investing mainly in property, high yield or government bonds (such as UK Gilts) are also in this category.

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

Important Information

- Please note the performance figures for this fund's benchmark are not available until around week 3 after a quarter end. So the figures shown until then might be for the previous quarter.
- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).

The figures shown are intended only to demonstrate performance history of the fund, after allowing for the impact of fund charges and further costs, but take no account of any Annual Management Charge paid for by the deduction of units. Charges and further costs may vary in the future and may be higher than they are now. Fund performance is based upon the movement of the daily price and is shown as total return in GBP with gross income reinvested. The value of your client's investment can go down as well as up and the amount your client gets back may be less than they put in.

Commentary

Performance as at Q4 2021 - Total returns for the UK property market continued to be positive, accelerated by a recovery in 'All Property' capital values reflecting the increase in transactional volumes. As represented by the MSCI UK Monthly Property Index, the market generated total returns of 7.9% for Q4 2021, comprising an income return of 1.2% and capital growth of 6.6%. Capital values increased by 3.5% in December alone, representing one of the highest monthly increases in values for all commercial property since the index's inception. The growth is largely driven by the continued month-on-month performance in the industrial sector and the resurgence of retail warehousing, which has benefited from growing investor recognition given its resilience to e-commerce and relevance to future shopping habits. In Q4 2021, the industrial sector recorded significant capital value growth of 12.4%, while retail capital value growth grew to 4.1% (driven by the retail warehousing sub-sector recording a 7.0% gain). The office sector recorded capital growth at 1.6%. For the quarter, the fund generated a total return of 9.1%, significantly outperforming the MSCI/AREF UK 'All Balanced' Property Fund index (the benchmark) weighted average total return of 7.5%. With the Bank of England base rate and the 'risk free' rate of 10-year gilts at such low levels, the commercial property market continues to assert its highly attractive relative income attributes. While expectations for a rise in interest rates place upward pressure on UK gilt yields (up from 0.2% at the start of 2021), property yield compression is unlikely to be tempered, as the current spread reflects a generous risk premium which should absorb modest interest rate rises over the short term. The UK property investment market performed exceptionally well in 2021 and is well placed to capitalise on positive macro socio-economic trends. The consequence of record yield compression may see assets becoming fully priced, in which case 2022 would see a greater focus on "value" as returns normalise to levels seen before the pandemic.
