Prudential Risk Rating

Lower to Medium Risk

These funds may invest in corporate bonds or multi-asset strategies with a higher weighting in corporate bonds (and other comparable strategies).

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund's risk rating with an adviser.

Important Information

- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).

Performance comment

Performance as at Q2 2020 - With the increased issuance and heightened volatility over the quarter the manager was able to exploit multiple supply focused price anomalies across the curve. This has resulted in a positive contribution to fund level from relative value trading.

During the quarter the manager opportunistically purchased ultra index linked gilts versus ultra fixed rate bonds. This position performed well and as a result was closed at a profit.

The short dated Supranational bonds (EIB, KFW and IADB) performed strongly and as a result the manager took the opportunity to reduce this position.

The manager closed the overweight position relative to the benchmark in corporate bonds (Goldman Sachs and Legal and General) as credit spreads tightened significantly after the government and Bank of England offered support to the economy. This contributed positively to performance.

The fund remains overweight relative to the benchmark, albeit in smaller size, in short dated supranationals as they still offer value relative to short dated gilts.

The fund has significantly de-risked active exposures over the quarter and is left in a strong position to respond to market fluctuations as they may arise.

Activity in the fund continued to focus on an active stock specific relative value approach. During the quarter, the manager took advantage of a number of anomalies in relative value across the index linked gilt yield curve.
