Prudential Risk Rating

Lower to Medium Risk

These funds may invest in corporate bonds or multi-asset strategies with a higher weighting in corporate bonds (and other comparable strategies).

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund's risk rating with an adviser.

Important Information

- Because of changes in exchange rates the value of your investment, as well as any money you take from it, can go down as well as up.
- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).
- Source of portfolio data: Broadridge. Source of performance data: FE fundinfo. We can't predict the future. Past performance isn't a guide to future performance. The figures shown are intended only to demonstrate performance history of the fund, after allowing for the impact of fund charges and further costs, but take no account of any Annual Management Charge paid for by the deduction of units. Charges and further costs may vary in the future and may be higher than they are now. Fund performance is based upon the movement of the daily price and is shown as total return in GBP with gross income reinvested. The value of your investment can go down as well as up so you might get back less than you put in.

Commentary

Performance as at Q4 2023 - The PPDG range of funds had a good quarter both in absolute terms and versus the peer group. The range outperformed with robust single digit returns across most asset classes. During the quarter, we also implemented changes to the portfolio with the inclusion of new investments to the portfolio. These included Infrastructure, Private equity, European, Asian property, US and UK sovereign bond investments, which will help diversify the portfolio further. The robust quarterly returns were in the main helped by the increasing speculation that the Federal Reserve had ended its' interest rate hiking cycle as inflation had seemingly peaked. Expectations for interest rate cuts led to both global government and corporate bonds performing well, in particular, UK gilts outperformed both US and German government bonds. However Chinese stock markets continued underperforming due to the underwhelming response by authorities to grapple with the economic slowdown, led by the property downturn. Tactically, performance detracted over the quarter slightly as our overweight to US equities wasn't enough to offset the underperformance of our underweight to fixed income and overweight to China.
