Investment opportunities

- The fund offers exposure to capital growth prospects over the long-term.
- We believe Asian equity markets offer attractive stock specific opportunities, with many of these companies having strong balance sheets and increasingly shareholder-friendly policies.
- William Lam became sole manager of the fund in May 2017 having co-managed the fund alongside Stuart Parks since 2015. William joined Invesco as a fund manager in 2006, and has a strong track record managing Asian equity portfolios since 2009.

Fund objective

- The objective of the fund is to achieve capital growth.
- The fund invests primarily in shares of Asian and Australasian companies (excluding Japan), or in shares of companies with significant interests in Asia and Australasia.
- The fund may use derivatives (complex instruments) to manage the fund more efficiently, with the aim of reducing risk, minimising costs and/or generating additional capital or income.
- The fund is actively managed within its objectives and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Fund strategy

We seek to invest in companies whose share prices are substantially below our estimate of fair value. Our investment process leads us to focus on unloved areas of the market, as this is where many undervalued companies can be found. The fund continues to have a number of key identifiable areas of exposure which are currently at different stages of maturity, including: Chinese consumer, South Korea and what we consider to be undervalued balance sheets.

Investment risks

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested.

The fund invests in emerging and developing markets, where there is potential for a decrease in market liquidity, which may mean that it is not easy to buy or sell securities. There may also be difficulties in dealing and settlement, and custody problems could arise.

The fund may use derivatives (complex instruments) in an attempt to reduce the overall risk of its investments, reduce the costs of investing and/or generate additional capital or income, although this may not be achieved. The use of such complex instruments may result in greater fluctuations of the value of the fund. The Manager, however, will ensure that the use of derivatives within the fund does not materially alter the overall risk profile of the fund.
