

Man GLG Income Fund

MONTHLY SUMMARY REPORT: 30 JUNE 2020

REPORTING CLASS: Man GLG Income Fund Professional Acc C

FUND DESCRIPTION

The Fund seeks to achieve a level of income (gross of fees) above the FTSE All-Share (NDTR) Index over 1 year rolling periods and to outperform (NDTR) the FTSE Index over the long term (over 5 year rolling periods). To achieve this objective, the Fund will invest at least 80% of its assets, directly or indirectly, in equities relating to companies that either have their registered office in the UK; carry out a predominant proportion of their business activity in the UK market; and/or are listed on a UK stock exchange. The Investment Adviser seeks to identify companies trading below the Investment Adviser's estimation of the value of their tangible assets (physical and measurable assets that are used in a company's operations such as property, plant, and equipment) or their replacement cost, or whose profit streams (which focuses on the cash generated for shareholders) the Investment Adviser considers to be undervalued.

A complete description of fund aims is set out in the fund's prospectus.

FUND RISKS

The value of your investment and the income from it may rise as well as fall and you may not get back the amount originally invested. Prior to investing in the Fund investors should carefully consider the risks associated with investing, whether the Fund suits their investment requirements and whether they have sufficient resources to bear any losses which may result from an investment in the Fund. Investors should only invest if they understand the terms on which the Fund is offered. Investors should consider the following risks and where appropriate seek professional advice before investing: Market Risk, Counterparty Risk, Currency Risk, Liquidity Risk, Financial Derivatives Instruments, Single Region/Country Risk. More details can be found in the risk glossary.

Prior to making investments investors should read and consider the fund's offering documents.

COMMENTARY

The Fund rose by 2.5% during the month, which compares to 1.5% rise for the benchmark. Year to date the fund has fallen by 23.3% which compares to the 17.5% fall for the benchmark.

The month was characterized by better economic news as we started to normalize after the enforced lockdown. There was the quantifiable 12% improvement in retail sales and a substantial build up in bank deposits. The latter drove a significant rise in the savings rate and the propensity to spend in the coming weeks and months will have a key bearing on the shape of the recovery. Other data such as PMI surveys continued to improve, and employment intentions also recovered. Accordingly, the Chief Economist of the Bank of England went on record to say the recovery has been faster than anticipated. Whilst it is extremely early days this is of course welcome news and our challenge is to identify the stock opportunities that reflect an overly dim view of the world.

Within the fund there was good performance from the spread betting company CMC Markets which rose by 35% in response to good results. This period of volatility has of course been helpful to the business model and the portfolio has also gained from its holding in IG index and Plus 500. With CMC there is however evidence starting to emerge that their significant investment in technology is starting to be handsomely rewarded. This could drive a longer-term rerating and in the short term the significant net cash balance sheet and set payout ratio means that the dividend is both attractive and secure.

For the second month in a row the non-life insurer Lancashire was good performer rising by 19%. The company announced a placing and we believe consensus has failed to properly model the potential drop through to profitability of an improving pricing cycle and that the business will be both larger from a sales perspective and more profitable in the coming years. News around most recent renewals reinforced this view. While we remain long the shares, we did the opportunity to reduce the position into the strength.

On the downside our holding in the European listed shipping company Euronav fell by 20%. The shares did go ex c 9% but the recent strength in the oil market is to blame as their tankers have been commanding extremely high day rates for the storage of oil at a time of exceptionally depressed prices. The share however resides well below book and the modest future capex combined with attractive dividend policy mean we continue to hold the shares.

With trading activity in mind there was a notable rally in at the start of the month in many of the value names we hold. Given the income focus of the fund we are determined to rotate to those names that we believe can most quickly return to dividend paying status. Accordingly, we chose to reduce our position in Easyjet which rallied by over 30% intra month. Also, within banks we sold some of the larger players as we feel that smaller more nimble banks such as Close Brothers will return to dividend paying status far sooner.

We continue to thank investors for their support.

RISK GLOSSARY

Market Risk - The Fund is subject to normal market fluctuations and the risks associated with investing in international securities markets. Therefore, the value of your investment and the income from it may rise as well as fall and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

Counterparty Risk - The Fund will be exposed to credit risk on counterparties with which it trades in relation to on-exchange traded instruments such as futures and options and where applicable, 'over-the-counter' ("OTC", "non-exchange") transactions. OTC instruments may also be less liquid and are not afforded the same protections that may apply to participants trading instruments on an organised exchange.

Currency Risk - The value of investments designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates may result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible or practicable to successfully hedge against the currency risk exposure in all circumstances.

Liquidity Risk - The Fund may make investments or hold trading positions in markets that are volatile and which may become illiquid. Timely and cost efficient sale of trading positions can be impaired by decreased trading volume and/or increased price volatility.

Financial Derivatives Instruments - The Fund may invest in financial derivative instruments ("FDI") (instruments whose prices are dependent on one or more underlying asset) typically for hedging purposes. The use of FDI involves additional risks such as high sensitivity to price movements of the asset on which it is based. The use of FDI may multiply the gains or losses.

Single Region/Country Risk - The Fund is a specialist country-specific or geographic regional fund, the investment carries greater risk than a more internationally diversified portfolio.

A complete description of risks is set out in the Fund's prospectus.

GLOSSARY

Active Share	Active share is a measure of the percentage of stock holdings in a manager's portfolio that differ from the reference index.
Annualised Return	An annualised total return is an average amount of money earned by an investment each year over a given time period. It is calculated to show what an investor would earn over a period of time if the annual return was compounded.
Annualised Volatility	Volatility is the rate and extent at which the price of a portfolio, security or index, moves up and down. If the price swings up and down with large movements, it has high volatility. If the price moves more slowly and to a lesser extent, it has lower volatility. It is used as a measure of the riskiness of an investment. Annualised volatility is an average annual amount of volatility over a given time period.
Beta	A measure of how sensitive an investment portfolio is to market movements. The sign of the beta (+/-) indicates whether, on average, the portfolio's returns move in line with (+), or in the opposite direction (-), to the market. The market has a beta of 1. If the portfolio has a beta of less (more) than 1, it means that the security is theoretically less (more) volatile than the market.
Comparator Benchmark	An index or similar factor against which a fund manager invites investors to compare a fund's performance.
Constraining Benchmark	An index or similar factor that fund managers use to limit or constrain how they construct a fund's portfolio. By the default this is also a comparator benchmark.
Correlation	A measure of the interdependence or strength of the relationship between two investments. A correlation of 1 means that the two investments are perfectly synchronised, -1 implies that they move in symmetrically opposite directions and 0 means no relationship between them.
Distribution Yield	The distribution yield reflects the amounts that may be expected to be distributed over the next twelve months as a percentage of the fund's net asset value per share as at the date shown, and may be estimated. It does not include any initial charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions.
Entry Charge	The entry charge shown is a maximum figure and in some cases you might pay less. Please refer to your financial advisor or the distributor for the actual charges.
Exposure	This refers to the part of a portfolio that is subject to the price movements of a specific security, sector, market or economic variable. It is typically expressed as a percentage of the total portfolio, e.g. the portfolio has 10% exposure to the mining sector.
Information Ratio	A ratio of portfolio returns above the excess returns of a benchmark (usually an index) to the volatility of those returns. The ratio measures a portfolio manager's ability to generate excess returns relative to a benchmark. Volatility is measured using tracking error.
Market Cap	The market value of a company's outstanding shares. The micro dollar market capitalisation is from 0 to $500m, the small dollar market capitalisation is from $500m to $2.5bn, the mid dollar market capitalisation is from $2.5bn to $5bn, the large dollar market capitalisation is from $5bn to $12.5bn and the mega dollar market capitalisation is $12.5bn and above.
NAV	The Net Asset Value (NAV) represents the value per share. It is calculated by dividing the total net asset value of the fund (the value of the fund's assets less its liabilities) by the number of shares outstanding.
Ongoing Charge Figure (OCF)	The OCF is based on expenses and may vary from year to year. It includes management fees but excludes performance fees (where applicable) and portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling units in another sub-fund. The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of running the Fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.
Overweight/Underweight	Refers to a fund's position in line with its chosen reference index. Overweight means a fund holds more of a certain security than the reference index and underweight means a fund holds less of a certain security compared to its reference index.
Performance Fee	The payment made to an Investment Manager if certain performance levels are achieved (often over and above any levels set out in the investment objective) within a set time period. Please refer to the fund's prospectus for a complete description.
Position Concentration	The proportion of a portfolio's net asset value represented by the largest (e.g. 5/10/20) positions.
Quartile Ranking	Quartile rankings are a measure of how well a fund has performed against a group of similarly categorised funds. The rankings range from 1 to 4, with 1 representing the fund's performance being in the top 25% of funds in its sector.
Redemption Fee	This is the maximum amount by which your investment may be reduced prior to the proceeds being paid out.
Sector (i)	A sector is an area of the economy in which businesses share the same or a related product or service. It can also be thought of as an industry or market that shares common operating characteristics. Dividing an economy into different pieces allows for more in-depth analysis of the economy as a whole.
Sector (ii)	A peer group of funds which have a similar investment objective or invest in the same type of assets. These are organised by independent companies such as the Investment Association in the UK. The average performance of a sector is often used to compare with the performance of an individual fund in the sector.
Sharpe Ratio	The Sharpe Ratio is a measure for calculating risk-adjusted return, and has become the industry standard for such calculations. The Sharpe Ratio is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of volatility or total risk. The higher the ratio the better, with a number greater than 1 usually considered good, a number greater than 2 considered very good and a ratio of 3 or higher considered excellent. As it is an absolute measure of risk-adjusted return, negative Sharpe Ratios can be misleading and are therefore shown as N/A.
Synthetic Risk &amp; Reward Indicator (SRRI)	Featured on the Key Investor Information Document (KIID), the SRRI is a measure of the overall risk and reward profile of a fund. Funds are categorised on a scale from 1 to 7 where 1 is the lowest risk and 7 is the highest. Typically, the SRRI is derived from the volatility of past returns over a 5-year period. Investors should be aware the indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The lowest category does not mean risk free.
Target Benchmark	An index or similar factor that is part of a target a fund manager has set for a fund's performance to match or exceed (including anything used for performance fee calculation). By default this is also a comparator.
Tracking Error	Tracking error is a measure of the divergence between a portfolio's returns and the benchmark or index against which it is managed.
YTD	Year-to-date.
