Management Commentary

The trust's share price and net asset value outperformed the benchmark in May. Our largest positive contributions came from Berkeley Group, Howden Joinery and Bellway, all of which are exposed to the UK housing market. Following its recent initial public offering, Shawbrook Bank, a UK challenger bank, also performed well in the month and was a key positive contributor. The largest detractor from performance came from our position in Plus500. The stock suffered from increasing regulatory requirements impacting customer activity, before receiving an opportunistic bid approach at the end of the month. Not owning Booker also detracted from performance as the company announced an accretive acquisition that the market reacted positively to.

JPMorgan Mid Cap Investment Trust plc

SECTOR BREAKDOWN AS AT 31 MAY 2015 ^F

The Trust is an actively managed portfolio, holdings, sector weights, allocations and leverage, as applicable are subject to change at the discretion of the Investment Manager without notice.

RISK INFORMATION

- The investment objective of a trust may allow some flexibility in terms in portfolio composition.
- Investments in smaller companies may involve a higher degree of risk as these are usually more sensitive to price movements.
- Shares in smaller companies and emerging markets are generally traded less frequently than those in larger companies and established markets. This means that there may be difficulty in both buying and selling shares and individual share prices may be subject to short-term price fluctuations.
- External factors may cause an entire asset class to decline in value. Prices and values of all shares or all bonds could decline at the same time.
- The Company may borrow to finance further investment (gearing). The use of gearing is likely to lead to volatility in the Net Asset Value (NAV) meaning that a relatively small movement, down or up, in the value of the Company's assets will result in a magnified movement, in the same direction, of that NAV.
