Introduction and Information

We are pleased to present the Annual Report and Financial Statements for the GLG International ICVC ("the Company") covering the year 1 June 2012 to 31 May 2013.

The Company is an umbrella scheme comprising four sub-funds, each of which is operated as a distinct fund with its own portfolio of investments.

The Company has the following sub-funds in which shares are currently available:

GLG American Growth Fund

GLG Continental Europe Fund

GLG Japan CoreAlpha

GLG Technology Equity Fund

As a sub-fund is not a legal entity, if the assets attributable to any sub-fund are insufficient to meet the liabilities attributable to it, the shortfall might have to be met out of assets attributable to another sub-fund of the Company. Shareholders are not liable for the debts of the Company. A Shareholder is not liable to make any further payment to the Company after the purchase price of the shares has been paid.

The broad aim of the Company is to achieve capital growth. Each sub-fund has its own specific investment objective and investment policy which is stated within the pages of this report as they relate to each individual sub-fund.

All sub-funds are valued on each UK business day at noon.

Dilution adjustment

A dilution adjustment is an adjustment to the share price which is determined by the Authorised Corporate Director ('the ACD') in accordance with the Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA") (formerly Financial Services Authority) rules. The ACD may make a dilution adjustment to the price of a share (which means that the price of a share is above or below that which would have resulted from mid-market valuation) for the purpose of reducing dilution in the sub-fund (or to recover an amount which it has already paid or is reasonably expected to pay in the future) in relation to the issue or cancellation of shares.

Any dilution adjustment will be calculated by reference to the estimated costs of dealing in the underlying investments of the relevant sub-fund, including any dealing spreads, commission and transfer taxes in accordance with the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) rules.

A dilution adjustment will be applied in the following circumstances:

- where, over a dealing period, a sub-fund has experienced a large level of net issues or cancellations relative to its size - assessed as 10% or more of the net asset value of the sub-fund (as calculated at the last available valuation); or
- where the ACD considers it appropriate in order to protect the interests of the continuing shareholders.

Changes to the ICVC during the year

The GLG Esprit Continental Europe Fund was renamed as GLG Continental Europe Fund from 11 October 2012.

The GLG Japan CoreAlpha Fund was renamed as GLG Japan CoreAlpha from 11 October 2012.

The GLG Technology Equity Fund launched the Institutional accumulation share class on 10 October 2012.

Directors' Report

I have pleasure in presenting the Annual Report and Financial Statements for the GLG International ICVC covering the year from 1 June 2012 to 31 May 2013.

The GLG International ICVC aims to provide a full range of international equity funds with a variety of risk profiles to suit investors' requirements. In the following pages my colleagues will provide more information with regard to the global economy and the global markets together with individual sub-funds' performances and outlook. I hope you find this report informative.

The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

This report is made solely to the Company's members, as a body, pursuant to Paragraph 4.5.12 of the rules of the Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook of the Financial Conduct Authority (formerly the Financial Services Authority). Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the Company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective Responsibilities of the Authorised Corporate Director ("ACD") and the Auditor

As explained more fully in the ACD's responsibilities statement set out on page 8, the ACD is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view.

Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). Those standards require us to comply with the Auditing Practices Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

Scope of the audit of the financial statements

An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of: whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the Company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed; the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the ACD; and the overall presentation of the financial statements. In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Annual Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements. If we become aware of any apparent material misstatements or inconsistencies we consider the implications for our report.

Opinion on financial statements

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company and of its sub-funds as at 31 May 2013 and of the net revenue and expense and the net capital gains on the scheme property of the Company and its sub-funds for the year then ended; and

In our opinion:

- the financial statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice relating to Authorised Funds, the rules of the Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook of the Financial Conduct Authority (formerly the Financial Services Authority) and the Instrument of Incorporation;
- the information given in the ACD's report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements;
- there is nothing to indicate that proper accounting records have not been kept or that the financial statements are not in agreement with those records; and
- we have received all the information and explanations which, to the best of our knowledge and belief, are necessary for the purposes of our audit

Notes to the Aggregated Financial Statements

for the year 1 June 2012 to 31 May 2013

1 Accounting policies

a Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost basis, as modified by the revaluation of investments, and in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice and with the Statement of Recommended Practice: Financial Statements of Authorised Funds ("SORP") issued by the Investment Management Association ("IMA") in October 2010.

The ACD is confident that the Company and each of its sub-funds will continue in operation for the foreseeable future. The Company and each of its sub-funds have adequate financial resources and their respective assets consist predominantly of securities which are readily realisable. As such, the financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis.

b Aggregated accounts

The aggregated accounts represent the sum of the individual sub-funds within the umbrella company.

c Valuation of investments

Sub-funds' listed investments are valued at bid market values, defined as fair value, excluding any accrued interest in the case of fixed interest and floating rate debt securities, at the close of business valuation point on the last business day of the accounting period in accordance with the provisions of the Prospectus. Any unquoted securities are valued by the Authorised Corporate Director ("ACD") on a net realisable value basis taking into account, where appropriate, latest dealing prices, valuations from reliable sources, financial performance and other relevant factors.

Contracts for Differences (CFDs) are valued at the mid value of the underlying equity investment at the close of business on the last business day of the accounting period.

The current notional value of a CFD represents the reference amount used to calculate payments between the counterparties to the CFD. The full notional value represents the economic interest in the security underlying the CFD, but does not change hands in full between the counterparties.

d Recognition of revenue

Dividends on quoted ordinary shares and preference shares are recognised when the securities are first quoted ex-dividend. Revenue from unquoted equity investments is recognised when the entitlement to the dividend is established. Interest on bank deposits, margin balances, CFD positions, fixed interest and floating rate debt securities is recognised on an accruals basis. Revenue on debt securities is recognised on the effective yield basis which takes account of the amortisation of any discounts or premiums arising on the purchase price, compared to the final maturity value, over the remaining life of the security. Interest included in the value of purchases and sales of fixed and floating rate debt securities is treated as revenue and forms part of the distribution. In compliance with Financial Reporting Standards (FRS 16) "Current Tax", dividend revenue is shown net of any tax credits. Any entitlement to a repayment of tax credits is shown as a deduction from the tax charge rather than as dividend revenue. Revenue from securities lending is accounted for net of associated costs and is recognised on an accruals basis.

e Stock dividends

The ordinary element of a stock dividend is recognised as revenue to the extent that its market value is equivalent to the market value of the underlying shares on the date the shares are quoted ex-dividend. Where an enhancement is offered, the amount by which the market value of the shares (on the date they are quoted ex-dividend) exceeds the cash value of the dividend will be taken to the capital of the sub-fund. The ordinary element of the stock dividend is treated as revenue but does not form part of the distribution.

f Special dividends and share buy-backs

Special dividends and share buy-backs are treated as repayments of capital except where there is sufficient evidence to indicate that they should be treated, in whole or in part, as revenue. Amounts recognised as revenue will form part of the distribution. The tax treatment will follow the accounting treatment of the receipt.

g Underwriting commission

Underwriting commission is generally treated as revenue. However, where a sub-fund is required to take up all of the shares underwritten, the commission received is treated as a reduction in the cost of the shares received. Furthermore, where a sub-fund is required to take a proportion of the shares underwritten, the same proportion of the commission received is treated as a reduction in the cost of shares received and the balance is taken to revenue.

h Expenses

Expenses (including management expenses) are recognised on an accruals basis and are charged against revenue except for stamp duty reserve tax and costs associated with the purchase and sale of investments which are charged to capital. However, for the purposes of determining the distribution, all or part of the ACD's periodic charge may be borne by the capital of the sub-fund. For this accounting period, the ACD's periodic charge for the Retail income and Professional income share classes of the GLG Japan CoreAlpha sub-fund have been borne by capital. The ACD's periodic charge for all other sub-funds has been borne by revenue. Institutional shareholders receive rebates from GLG Partners Investment Funds Limited for expenses incurred. These rebates are recognised on an accruals basis and are treated in accordance with the principal expense.

i Allocation of revenue and expenses to multiple share classes

The allocation of revenue and expenses to each share class is based on the proportion of the sub-fund's assets attributable to each share class on the day the revenue is earned or the expense is incurred. The ACD's periodic charge, and registration fees are allocated on a share class specific basis.

j Formation costs

The costs associated with the formation of the Company were borne by the ACD.

k Taxation

Corporation tax is charged at 20% on the revenue liable to corporation tax less allowable expenses. Deferred taxation is provided for at rates of taxation that are expected to apply in the period in which the timing differences are expected to reverse. Provision is made, using the liability method, on a fully provided basis in accordance with Financial Reporting Standards (FRS 19) "Deferred Tax". A net deferred tax asset is regarded as recoverable and therefore recognised only to the extent that, on the basis of available evidence, it can be regarded as more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which future reversal of the underlying timing difference can be deducted.

l Distribution

Each sub-fund's net revenue (after adjusting for non-distributable stock dividends and ACD's periodic charge borne by capital) available for distribution at the end of each distribution period will be paid as a dividend distribution. Should the expenses of the sub-fund (including taxation) at the final distribution exceed the revenue of the sub-fund, there will be no distribution and the shortfall will be met by the capital account of the sub-fund. Any revenue attributable to accumulation shareholders is retained within the sub-fund at the end of the distribution period and represents a reinvestment of revenue on behalf of the accumulation shareholders. The policy of each sub-fund is to make a final distribution each financial year end.

m Equalisation

Equalisation applies only to shares purchased during the distribution period (Group 2 units). It is the average amount of revenue included in the purchase price of all Group 2 shares and is refunded to the holders of these shares as a return of capital. Being capital it is not liable to Income Tax but must be deducted from the cost of shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes.

n Exchange rates

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate of exchange ruling on the date of the transaction. Where applicable, investments and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the exchange rates applicable at the end of the accounting period. Exchange rate differences arising on investments are recognised in the Statement of Total Return for the period as capital.

o Financial instruments

Where appropriate, certain permitted financial instruments such as derivative contracts or forward foreign exchange contracts are used for the purpose of efficient portfolio management. Where such financial instruments are used to protect or enhance revenue, the revenue and expenses derived therefrom are included in "Revenue" or "Expenses" in the Statement of Total Return. Where such financial instruments are used to protect or enhance capital, the gains and losses derived therefrom are included in "Net capital gains/(losses)" in the Statement of Total Return.

Any positions in respect of such instruments open at the period end are reflected in the portfolio statement at their market value. The amounts held at futures clearing houses in respect of these financial instruments are included in the cash and bank balances in the notes to the financial statements.

It is unlikely that the sub-fund will generate sufficient taxable profits in the future to utilise this amount and therefore a deferred tax asset of £12,933,960 (2012: £10,370,094) has not been recognised.

12 Derivatives and other financial instruments

In pursuing its respective investment objectives and investment policies, each of the Company's sub-funds may hold a number of financial instruments. These may comprise:

- equity shares, equity related shares, non-equity shares and fixed interest and floating rate securities. These are held in accordance with each of the sub-fund's investment policies;
- cash, liquid resources and short-term debtors and creditors that arise directly from its operations;
- shareholders' funds, which represent investors' monies that are invested on their behalf;
- derivative transactions which each of the sub-fund's may also enter into, the purpose of which is to manage the market risks arising from the sub-fund's investment activities; and
- borrowings used to finance investment activity.

The main risks arising from the underlying financial instruments are market price, foreign currency, interest rate, liquidity and credit risk. Details of the portfolio of each sub-fund and its exposure to foreign currency and interest rate risk are set out in the accounts of each sub-fund. The ACD reviews the policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised below.

These policies have remained unchanged since the beginning of the period to which these financial statements relate.

Market price risk

Market price risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices of financial instruments held. It represents the potential loss the sub-funds might suffer through holding market positions in the face of price movements.

The ACD considers the asset allocation of the sub-funds' portfolios in order to minimise the risk associated with particular industry sectors whilst continuing to follow the investment objective. The ACD has responsibility for monitoring the sub-funds' portfolios selected in accordance with the overall asset allocation parameters described above and seeks to ensure that individual stocks also meet the risk reward profile that is acceptable.

Foreign currency risk

The revenue and capital value of the sub-funds' investments can be affected by currency translation movements as the sub-funds' functional currency is Sterling.

The ACD has identified three principal areas where foreign currency risk could impact the sub-funds:

- movement in exchange rates affecting the value of investments;
- movement in exchange rates affecting short-term timing differences; and
- movement in exchange rates affecting the revenue received.

The sub-funds may be subject to short-term exposure to exchange rate movements, for instance where there is a difference between the date an investment purchase or sale is entered into and the date when settlement occurs. The ACD may choose to retain holdings in currencies other than sterling which will expose the sub-funds to longer-term exchange rate movements. The sub-funds may receive revenue in currencies other than sterling and the sterling value of this revenue can be affected by the movements in exchange rates. The sub-funds convert all receipts of revenue into sterling on or near the date of receipt.

The sub-funds may also use currency transactions, including forward currency contracts and currency swaps to alter the exposure characteristics of the transferable securities held by the sub-funds.

Use of derivatives

The sub-funds may open positions in Over-the-Counter (OTC) derivatives, which will typically be options, contracts for difference and swaps. Of these, the sub-funds will predominantly use contracts for difference (CFDs). CFDs allow the sub-fund to participate in the benefits and risk of owning a security without actually possessing legal title to that security (typically equities). CFDs settle periodically, depending on the terms of the agreement with the counterparty, for cash amounts calculated as the difference between the current market price and market price on the day of opening the CFD position.

Equity CFDs can be held both long and short and are selected by the ACD in pursuit of the investment objective of the sub-funds. Increases to the value of equities underlying CFDs held long and decreases to the value of equities underlying CFDs held short will be received by the sub-funds from the counterparty. Decreases to the value of equities underlying CFDs held long and increases to the value of equities underlying CFDs held short will be paid by the sub-funds to the counterparty.

The ACD monitors the sub-fund's portfolio against the sub-fund's investment restrictions and risk management policy on a daily basis.

The Sub-funds may trade in derivatives with a range of counterparties. The counterparties for contracts for differences (CFDs) are Credit Suisse, forward currency contracts are BNY Mellon and options are traded with HSBC. Margin is paid or received on forward currency contracts, options and CFDs to cover any exposure by the counterparty to the sub-funds or by the sub-funds to the counterparty. Cash and bank balances consist primarily of cash and margin receivable from the sub-fund's clearing brokers and various counterparties. It is included in "Cash and bank balances" on the Balance Sheet.

Interest rate risk

The sub-funds may invest in fixed interest and floating rate debt securities. Any changes to the interest rates relevant for particular securities may result in either revenue increasing or decreasing, or the ACD being unable to secure similar returns on the expiry of contracts or the sale of securities. In addition, changes to prevailing rates or changes in expectations of future rates may result in an increase or decrease in the value of securities held.

In general, if interest rates rise, the revenue potential of the sub-funds also rises but the value of fixed rate debt securities will decline (along with certain expenses calculated by reference to the assets of the sub-fund). A decline in interest rates will, in general, have the opposite effect.

Please refer to note 12 of the respective sub-fund's financial statements for a numerical analysis of the interest risk associated with each sub-fund.

Liquidity risk

The sub-funds' assets comprise mainly of readily realisable securities which can be sold to meet liquidity requirements. The main liquidity risk of the sub-funds is the redemption of any shares that investors wish to sell.

Credit risk

Certain transactions in securities that the sub-funds enter into expose them to the risk that the counterparty will not deliver the investment (purchase) or cash (sale) after the sub-funds have fulfilled their responsibilities.

The sub-funds only buy and sell investments through brokers which have been approved by the ACD as an acceptable counterparty. In addition, limits are set as to the maximum exposure to any individual broker that may exist at any time. These limits are reviewed regularly.

Manager's Review

Market & Fund Performance Review

For the twelve months ending 31 May 2013, the GLG American Growth Fund slightly underperformed the Russell 1000 Index. The sub-fund continued to maintain its overweight allocation to large cap growth and underweight allocation to the mid cap strategies as we feel that larger cap securities are best positioned to capture the potential upside in this current global environment as well as offer the best downside protection. Over the past twelve months, one of the main contributors to relative performance has been security selection within both large and mid cap value securities. An overweight allocation to large cap growth and underweight allocation to mid cap value were two drags on relative performance. At the sub strategy level, the strongest performance came from relative value large cap followed by value opportunities. Over the past year, the sub-fund generated positive alpha from security selection especially in the value strategies. At the end of May, the sub-fund's allocation was 43% concentrated core (large cap growth), 34% relative value large cap, 5% growth equities (mid cap growth), 15% value opportunities (mid cap value) and 2% small cap growth. During the past 12 months, the allocations to both concentrated core and growth equities (mid cap growth) were reduced while the allocation to value opportunities (mid cap value) was increased.

Market update

U.S. equities rallied over the past year as most major indices finished the month at or near all-time highs. The U.S. economy has clearly shown signs of improvement and investors are gaining confidence that this recovery will continue and be strong enough to support itself without any monetary stimulus from the Fed. The housing market continued to show signs of recovery as home prices and sales saw substantial year over year increases. The U.S. Gross Domestic Product (GDP) for the first quarter saw growth of 2.5% quarter over quarter, with strong growth from consumer spending. With home prices increasing and the employment picture improving, consumer confidence and consumer spending has increased and have been key drivers to the growth in the economy. Even though corporate spending remains subdued, strong consumer spending has more than offset any weakness or slowdown. In addition to strong economic news, corporate earnings for the first quarter have been mixed. Most companies have been able to show strong earnings growth, but revenue growth remains under pressure with forward guidance remaining cautious.

Major Purchases/Sales

For the year ended May 2013, the GLG American Growth Fund added to its Consumer Discretionary holdings such as Starbucks, Tiffany's and Dana. As the economy improved over the past year, consumer spending and confidence has been one of the strongest areas within the market. With a stronger consumer, improving business conditions and historically low interest rates, the sub-fund has increased its exposure to the financial services sector. The sub-fund added to their Citigroup position and initiated positions in both Hartford Financial Services and SLM. Over the year, the sub-fund reduced its exposure to the energy sector. Even though oil prices remain high, concerns about earnings growth and profit margins have made us concerned. Costs for many of these energy producers and service companies have risen and this will ultimately affect earnings growth in a negative way. Within energy, the sub-fund eliminated positions in Occidental Petroleum and FMC Technologies over the past year.

Outlook

Stronger than expected housing and employment numbers has begun to show that the U.S. economy has stabilized and is continuing to grow and expand. With accommodative central banks globally, improving corporate earnings, and a stronger consumer, the backup for the U.S. economy and equities remains positive for the near-term.

5 Taxation

(a) Analysis of tax charge in the year
Overseas tax	282,199	274,616
Current tax charge for the year (see note 5(b))	282,199	274,616

Corporation tax has been provided for at a rate of 20% (2012: 20%).

(b) Reconciliation of current tax charge

The tax assessed for the year is higher (2012 – higher) than the amount resulting from applying the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK for an open-ended investment company (20%). The differences are explained below.

	1.6.2012 to 31.5.2013	1.6.2011 to 31.5.2012
Net revenue before taxation	1,293,278	839,065
Corporation tax at 20% (2012: 20%)	258,656	167,813
Effects of:
Expenses not deductible for tax purposes	(285)	(183)
Movement in excess management expenses	154,337	243,798
Overseas dividends not subject to corporation tax	(402,242)	(400,502)
Overseas tax	282,199	274,616
Overseas tax expensed	(2,285)	(1,367)
UK franked dividends not subject to corporation tax	(8,181)	(9,559)
Current tax charge for the year (see note 5(a))	282,199	274,616

At 31 May 2013, the sub-fund had surplus management expenses of £4,058,779 (2012: £3,296,390). It is unlikely that the sub-fund will generate sufficient taxable profits in the future to utilise these expenses and therefore a deferred tax asset of £811,756 (2012: £659,278) has not been recognised.

Note for Corporate Shareholders Only

A shareholder liable to UK corporation tax receives the dividend distribution excluding any equalisation as unfranked revenue to the extent that the gross revenue less tax from which the dividend distribution is made is not franked investment revenue. Where the gross revenue from which the dividend distribution is made is not wholly franked investment revenue, part of the distribution is received as an annual payment from which income tax at the lower rate has been deducted.

The maximum amount of income tax, if any, that may be reclaimed from the HM Revenue & Customs is the corporate shareholder's portion of the trustees' net liability to corporation tax in respect of the gross revenue.

Corporate shareholders receive the dividend distribution payments as detailed below:

Share class	Distribution payable 31.7.2013	Distribution paid 31.7.2012
Retail accumulation	100.00%	100.00%
Professional accumulation	100.00%	100.00%
Institutional accumulation	100.00%	100.00%

of the total distribution together with the tax credit is received as franked investment revenue.

Retail accumulation	0.00%	0.00%
Professional accumulation	0.00%	0.00%
Institutional accumulation	0.00%	0.00%

of the distribution received as an annual payment after deduction of income tax at the lower rate and chargeable to corporation tax. It is not franked revenue. The lower rate of tax is currently 20%.

The trustees' net liability to corporation tax in respect of the gross revenue is as follows:

Market and Fund Review

European markets appreciated strongly during the twelve month period ending 31 May 2013 with the FTSE World Europe ex UK Total Return Index rising by 43.3% over that period. The peak of the market occurred on 22 May but the trend over the whole period has generally been upwards. There was, however, a minor correction in mid-March when the Index fell by -6.5% but recovered to its previous level a month later. Over the 12 months to 31 May 2013 the sub-fund's Retail accumulation share class was up +44.6%, outperforming the FTSE World Europe ex UK Total Return Index by +1.4%. The first and second six months of the period showed relative performance of +2.3% and -1.1% respectively.

The sub-fund uses an approach driven by broker recommendations. GLG has selected a panel of the best brokers in Europe represented by a single senior contributor at each firm. These contributors give us their very best medium-term ideas only and we collect these through a web site. Typically, we have had relationships with these contributors for many years.

Our selection of brokers reflects the combined view of GLG fund managers on broker skill and ability. Over time we add new firms and remove those that we believe are likely to perform poorly. We analyse broker performance continuously to make sure that we are putting the right weight on the best firms. This is not a new approach for GLG since we have run investment strategies based on this technique since 2005. The fund managers for this strategy are Khalil Mohammed and Sandy Rattray.

Attribution/Performance Drivers over Period

The bulk of the outperformance over the period was due to sector selection whilst stock selection contributed negatively. Stock selection within Banks and Energy were the largest contributors. The individual stocks that contributed to the sub-fund performance are highly diversified. Our biggest winners were Swedbank, Seadrill and Nordea Bank. Our biggest losers were Novo Nordisk, ArcelorMittal and Roche.

Major Purchases/Sales

The managers run a highly diversified portfolio. As a result, purchases and sales tend to be relatively small compared to the size of the sub-fund. Over the 12 month period, the largest purchases were in Inditex, Sanofi and LVMH. The largest sales were in Reed Elsevier, Inditex and Sanofi.

Market and Fund Outlook

Global stock markets continued to be concerned about the possible ending of quantitative easing by the US Federal Reserve, the slowing Chinese economy and weak macro data from the Eurozone.

European equity markets continue to be volatile as new data showed a rise in Eurozone unemployment and inflation. Unemployment rose to 12.2% in May whilst the Consumer Price Index estimate increased by 0.2% to 1.4%. The European Central Bank had been under additional pressure to proactively spur the recovery following disappointing first quarter GDP numbers - the Eurozone economy shrunk by 0.2%. The ECB did, however, lower its main refinancing rate to 0.50% from an 11 month run at 0.75%. The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) also revised down its estimates for the Eurozone growth forecast. It is widely anticipated that the economy will stagnate in the second quarter before recovering towards the latter part of the year.

The number of new ideas from our contributors has remained healthy over the last twelve months and ideas being closed by our contributing brokers continue to show positive excess returns. Our contributors are increasingly debating which sectors could potentially lead the market higher. A number of sell-side strategists are now calling for a switch from high-yielding, defensive stocks into more cyclical elements of the market.

At the end of the period, the greatest sector overweights were in Industrial Goods & Services, Construction & Materials and Insurance whilst the largest underweights remain in Banks, Health Care and Food & Beverage.

On the final trading day of the period, the portfolio held 179 positions. The total number of broker ideas behind these names was 627, initiated from our 67 key contributors covering 370 stocks. The return optimisation stage of portfolio construction takes the full idea set and distils this into an enhanced portfolio by utilising our proprietary database of ideas and history. From the total number of ideas, 212 were unique and the average duration of ideas being closed over the month was 74 days whilst the average age of ideas remaining open was 71.

Corporation tax has been provided for at a rate of 20% (2012: 20%).

(b) Reconciliation of current tax charge

The tax assessed for the year is lower (2012 – lower) than the amount resulting from applying the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK for an open-ended investment company (20%). The differences are explained below:

	1.6.2012 to 31.5.2013	1.6.2011 to 31.5.2012
Net revenue before taxation
	1,327,503	2,132,768

Precompte at 20%	26	778
Current tax charge for the year (see note 5(a))	117,154	178,437

At 31 May 2013, the sub-fund had surplus management expenses of £527,548 (2012: £507,182). It is unlikely that the sub-fund will generate sufficient taxable profits in the future to utilise these expenses and therefore a deferred tax asset of £105,510 (2012: £101,436) has not been recognised.

- # Equalisation applies only to shares purchased during the distribution period (Group 2 shares). It is the average amount of revenue included in the purchase price of all Group 2 shares and is refunded to holders of these shares as a return of capital. Being capital, it is not liable to income tax but must be deducted from the cost of shares for capital gains tax purposes.

Note for Corporate Shareholders Only

A shareholder liable to UK corporation tax receives the dividend distribution excluding any equalisation as unfranked revenue to the extent that the gross revenue less tax from which the dividend distribution is made is not franked investment revenue. Where the gross revenue from which the dividend distribution is made is not wholly franked investment revenue, part of the distribution is received as an annual payment from which income tax at the lower rate has been deducted.

The maximum amount of income tax, if any, that may be reclaimed from the HM Revenue & Customs is the corporate shareholder's portion of the trustees' net liability to corporation tax in respect of the gross revenue.

Corporate shareholders receive the dividend distribution payments as detailed below:

Share class	Distribution payable 31.7.2013	Distribution paid 31.7.2012
Retail accumulation	100.00%	100.00%
Professional accumulation	100.00%	100.00%
Institutional accumulation	100.00%	100.00%

of the total distribution together with the tax credit is received as franked investment revenue.

Share class	Distribution payable 31.7.2013	Distribution paid 31.7.2012
Retail accumulation	0.00%	0.00%
Professional accumulation	0.00%	0.00%
Institutional accumulation	0.00%	0.00%

of the distribution received as an annual payment after deduction of income tax at the lower rate and chargeable to corporation tax. It is not franked revenue. The lower rate of tax is currently 20%.

The trustees' net liability to corporation tax in respect of the gross revenue is as follows:

Share class	Distribution payable 31.7.2013		Distribution paid 31.7.2012
	£	pence per share	£	pence per share

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the sub-fund is to achieve capital growth through investing primarily in the quoted securities of companies operating in Japan.

Investment Policy

To achieve the investment objective, the sub-fund is predominantly invested in securities of companies listed on Japan's stock markets. The sub-fund may also invest in other investments to the extent permitted by the FCA Rules as applicable from time to time and as explained in the Prospectus.

Risk and Reward Profile

The sub-fund's Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator (SRRI) is 6 on a scale of 1(lower) to 7(higher) as it invests in equities. Please see our Key Investor Information Document (KIID) for further information.

Performance summary

After a languid start to the year the Tokyo market staged a sharp recovery to close at the end of May with a total return on the benchmark TOPIX of 27.2% in sterling terms. During this period, the Retail accumulation shares of the sub-fund returned 36.6%. Whilst the yen's weakness against sterling arguably helped the market to rise it also served to mitigate the gains: in local currency Japanese equities rose by more than 70%.

Market and Fund Review

The malaise over the European sovereign debt crisis persisted through the early months of the period, with European Central Bank president Mario Draghi helping to alleviate negative sentiment somewhat from around July. However, concerns over economic activity in China and elsewhere continued to cloud the outlook until shortly before the Japanese election in December. The prospect of a more business-friendly and growth-orientated LDP government tempted foreign investors back into a market many had notionally abandoned. The actual landslide election victory allowed significant follow through amid growing corporate optimism that the Abe regime might presage more vibrant economic and stock market conditions. Near the end of May, concerns over the end of easy money in the US unsettled bond markets, with an associated correction in the Japanese equity market.

The GLG Japan CoreAlpha strategy has remained resolutely focused upon its target universe consisting of the 300 largest stocks by market capitalisation in Japan. Within this group there has historically been a particular emphasis upon the TOPIX Core30, which approximates to the very largest companies in the index. That exposure remains, though has reduced somewhat during the market rally. The contrarian style has dictated a reduction in some of the sub-fund's larger capitalised holdings, which had delivered excellent returns, and increased positions in slightly smaller (though still large) stocks where value has become apparent. Over the course of the year, the sub-fund's exposure to value (low price to book) stocks increased further as this group declined relative to growth, at least until around the final calendar quarter of 2012. Thus, until the market rallied, style effects impacted negatively upon performance as large cap and value stocks underperformed. Since December, such effects were generally positive, until the mentioned downward correction.

The main changes in positions in the sub-fund occurred during the market rise in accordance with the sub-fund's contrarian process. In this manner, overweight positions in the high-beta sectors such as securities and electric appliances were reduced as prices rose sharply. Similarly, holdings in defensive outperformers, such as pharmaceuticals and land transport were reduced, along with a further cut in Toyota, which benefited from the weaker yen. Laggard sectors included chemicals, glass & ceramics and information & communication, and the sub-fund's weighting in each of these increased. The main overweight positions at the end of May were financials, chemicals and electric appliances, with underweights in transport equipment, machinery, wholesale trade and pharmaceuticals.

Outlook

The shape of the CoreAlpha model remains the best guide as to where we see opportunities in the market. Japanese equity valuations are relatively attractive internationally and we continue to believe the market can progress further, subject to some settling of the global uncertainties currently evident. Patience may be required until after the Upper House elections in July and perhaps following developments on taxation or the structural reform policies of the new administration. Nonetheless, the key opportunity in Japan is represented by the prospect of a new positive banking cycle.

Corporation tax has been provided for at a rate of 20% (2012: 20%).
(b) Reconciliation of current tax charge
The tax assessed for the year is lower (2012 – lower) than the amount resulting from applying the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK for an open-ended investment company (20%). The differences are explained below.
Net revenue before taxation	12,272,944	19,412,977
Corporation tax at 20% (2012: 20%)	2,454,589	3,882,595

Expenses not deductible for tax purposes	3,799	—
Movement in excess management expenses	1,931,262	2,557,866
Overseas dividends not subject to corporation tax	(4,389,650)	(6,440,461)

Total current tax charge for the year (see note 5(a))	1,553,996	2,254,161

At 31 May 2013, the sub-fund had surplus management expenses of £36,550,219 (2012: £26,895,793). It is unlikely that the sub-fund will generate sufficient taxable profits in the future to utilise these expenses and therefore a deferred tax asset of £7,310,044 (2012: £5,379,159) has not been recognised.

Note for Corporate Shareholders Only

A shareholder liable to UK corporation tax receives the dividend distribution excluding any equalisation as unfranked revenue to the extent that the gross revenue less tax from which the dividend distribution is made is not franked investment revenue. Where the gross revenue from which the dividend distribution is made is not wholly franked investment revenue, part of the distribution is received as an annual payment from which income tax at the lower rate has been deducted.

The maximum amount of income tax, if any, that may be reclaimed from the HM Revenue & Customs is the corporate shareholder's portion of the trustees' net liability to corporation tax in respect of the gross revenue.

Corporate shareholders receive the dividend distribution payments as detailed below:

Share class	Distribution payable 31.7.2013	Distribution paid 31.7.2012
Retail accumulation	100.00%	100.00%
Retail income	100.00%	100.00%
Professional accumulation	100.00%	100.00%
Professional income	100.00%	100.00%
Institutional accumulation	100.00%	100.00%

of the total distribution together with the tax credit is received as franked investment revenue.

of the distribution received as an annual payment after deduction of income tax at the lower rate and chargeable to corporation tax. It is not franked revenue. The lower rate of tax is currently 20%.

Manager's Review

Market Review and Performance Summary

During the 12 months under review the sub-fund's Retail accumulation share class increased in value by 17.52%. In this period the index returned 18.66%.

Having overcome multiple macro-economic headwinds, indices trended broadly higher throughout the year under review. Technology began with multiple profit warnings from tier two handset vendors, including HTC and Nokia as the competitive landscape further intensified with Apple & Samsung the clear secular growth winners.

By September 2012, Apple's share price had peaked at just over US$700 at which point momentum stalled as component and supply chain noise related to iPhone 5 order cuts began to surface. The company then produced a very disappointing set of calendar 4Q12 results coupled with a profit warning for calendar 1Q13 and were aggressively penalised by the market. Management did little to allay investor concerns over their strategic direction resulting in a >30% share price reversal from their peak through to 31 May 2013. The PC trade continued to unwind driven by discretionary spend being directed to alternative mobile devices like tablets and smartphones prompting further negative sell-side revisions for calendar 2012 and 2013 PC unit growth. In semiconductors, the on-going race amongst chip manufacturers to transition to smaller geometries, (beyond 10 nanometres), fuelled strong demand for leading edge lithography equipment whilst driving record high capex spend from the likes of Intel, Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing (TSMC) and Samsung. This spurred a 96.32% total return for ARM. Throughout calendar 3Q12 a sea change emerged within enterprise facing I.T. with a move towards the software-defined datacentre. The real catalyst here was VMware's acquisition of privately held Nicira Network illustrating a push towards the full re-plumbing of existing architectures given the constraints placed on traditional networks as more and more mobile internet devices are migrated into enterprise networks. Market sentiment turned noticeably more bullish throughout calendar 1Q13 as investor appetite shifted to deep-value risk assets. During this period Big Data became a prominent investment theme for the sub-fund supported by the emergence of new world, disruptive, software technology assets coming to market. European Media performed exceptionally well driven by increasing advertising budgets, a renewed focus on higher cash returns and M&A whilst deteriorating operating and financial trends for European Telecoms were partly offset by a wave of renewed optimism for in-market consolidation.

Major Purchases and Sales

The sub-fund increased concentration in core, high-conviction thesis such as semiconductors like ARM, ASML and TSMC which continue to be driven by secular growth in smartphone and tablet unit elasticity. Exposure to Apple was meaningfully reduced and capital was rotated amongst early stage, enterprise facing and innovation-led software vendors that are GDP agnostic. Elsewhere, our more constructive view on premium content owners was reflected in positions like Walt Disney, Manchester United, Perform and Madison Square Garden.

Outlook

Alpha generation opportunities for the sub-fund remain robust particularly within the sub-sector of early stage, enterprise-facing software vendors. Similar to our creative destruction thesis in mobility we believe the arms race within Big Data, cloud computing and software defined datacentres will result in big winners and equally big losers. We see accelerating prospects for mobile internet connected device unit upside driven by whitebox manufacturers in emerging markets and our preferred exposure resides in monopolists such as ARM and TSMC whilst ASML remains a key beneficiary in an environment of increasing complexity and demand for next generation semiconductor manufacturing equipment. In Media, we prefer agencies, broadcasters and content owners and see further scope for upward re-ratings as management teams pursue innovation around higher margin digital and content related activities. We continue to see a challenging environment for European Telecoms with persistently tough operating trends further pressuring revenue and profitability growth profiles.

Total current tax charge for the year (see note 5(a))	116,567	67,119

At the 31 May 2013, the sub-fund had surplus management expenses of £23,533,250 (2012: £21,151,106). It is unlikely that the sub-fund will generate sufficient taxable profits in the future to utilise this amount and therefore, a deferred tax asset of £4,706,650 (2012: £4,230,221) has not been recognised.
