Review of Investment Activities

From 20 June 2013 to 20 December 2013, the price of I Accumulation units on a dealing price to dealing price basis rose 5.79%. In comparison, the MSCI World Index generated a net return of 8.92%¹ in sterling terms.

Global equities made strong gains amid improving macroeconomic data. The period was dominated by the prospect of the US Federal Reserve (Fed) tapering its quantitative easing programme. This prompted sharp falls in emerging markets as the prospect of a reduction in global liquidity led to worries over the ability of several countries to finance their current account deficits. Among developed economies, the US and UK housing markets gathered strength, the eurozone emerged from recession, and a weaker yen boosted Japanese exporters.

The fund lagged the index over the period. This was largely because of the off benchmark allocation to emerging markets, although positive stock selection helped offset the negative impact. Japan also detracted from performance; the yen's weakness provided a headwind as more cyclical (and, in our view, already fully priced) stocks rallied. Continental Europe and North America contributed to relative performance thanks to good stock picking. On a sector view, information technology and materials were the biggest detractors. Within materials, mining was the biggest drag. Financials was the leading positive contributor amid beneficial stock selection, particularly our long held preference for complex banks and insurers.

We have increased our overweight positions in resources, both energy and materials, with a preference for attractively priced European and emerging market stocks. We now have an overweight allocation to technology versus underweight previously, and have built positions across a broad range of opportunities including a number of overlooked but attractively valued mature technology stocks. The strategy retains a significant underweight position in consumer staples, especially drink companies, although weak performance has begun to present selected opportunities within this generally expensive sector.

Please remember that past performance is not a guide to future performance and it might not be repeated. The value of investments and the revenue from them may go down as well as up and investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Because of this, you are not certain to make a profit on your investments and you may lose money.

Risk Profile

Risk and reward indicator

The risk category was calculated using historical performance data and may not be a reliable indicator of the fund's future risk profile.

The fund is in this category because it can take higher risks in search of higher rewards and its price may rise and fall accordingly.

The fund's risk category is not guaranteed to remain fixed and may change over time.

A fund in the lowest category does not mean a risk free investment.

Specific risks

The fund invests in assets which are exposed to currencies other than sterling. Exchange rates may cause the value of overseas investments and the revenue from them to rise or fall.

The fund invests in less developed markets which are generally less well regulated than the UK. They may be less liquid and may have less reliable custody arrangements.

The fund invests in emerging markets and the Far East. This involves a high degree of risk and should be seen as long term in nature.

The fund is index unconstrained and has the potential for greater volatility.

The fund uses derivatives for specific investment purposes. This involves a higher degree of risk and may lead to a higher volatility in the unit prices of the fund.

The fund may invest in volatility index futures, although their use is intended to reduce volatility this may not always be the consequence and certain situations can cause greater volatility.

For these reasons, the purchase of units should not normally be regarded as a short term investment.
