Chairman's Statement

Performance

Following shareholders' approval at the 2013 Annual General Meeting ('AGM') of the continuation of the Company as an investment trust for a further five years, I am pleased to report that during the six months to 31st March 2013, the Company's return on net assets with net dividends reinvested increased by $17.9 \%$. This was ahead of the return of the Company's benchmark, the MSCI Golden Dragon Index, which increased by $13.0 \%$ (in sterling terms). The total return to shareholders was 19.3\%. The Investment Managers' Report provides further comments on the Company's performance and portfolio and market developments.

Loan Facility and Gearing

On 24th January 2013 the Company renewed its $£ 20$ million multi-currency credit facility with Scotiabank for a further 364 days, and $£ 18.1$ million was drawn down on this facility as at 31st March 2013. The Board has given the Investment Managers the flexibility to manage the gearing tactically within a range set by the Board of $10 \%$ net cash to $15 \%$ geared. During the period the Company's gearing ranged from $10 \%$ to $14 \%$ geared, ending the half year at $14 \%$ geared.

Share Issues and Repurchases in the Period

During the six months ended, the Company issued 12,257 new Ordinary shares following the exercise of Subscription shares for a total consideration of $£ 20,592$.

The Company repurchased 121,443 shares during the period at prices below the prevailing net asset value per share and holds them in Treasury in accordance with the Board's policy. The Company will re-issue shares held in Treasury only at a premium to NAV.

At the time of writing, the Company's issued share capital consists of $76,375,132$, Ordinary shares, excluding shares held in Treasury.

Subscription Shares

As at 31st March 2013 there were 12,717,293 outstanding subscription shares. From 31st March up to and including the final date for the exercise of Subscription Share Rights by Subscription Shareholders, which was 15th May 2013, holders of a further 33,850 subscription shares elected to exercise their Subscription Share Rights. However, since the subscription shares expired 'out of the money', the majority of holders did not convert and, consequently, there were 12,683,443 outstanding subscription shares following the Final Exercise Date. A Final Subscription Trustee ('Trustee') has been appointed to act on behalf of those Subscription Shareholders who have not exercised their Subscription Share Rights. In accordance with the Subscription Share terms, the Trustee will have to decide within 14 days of the Final Exercise Date, such period expiring at the latest at close of business on 29th May 2013, whether or not to exercise the outstanding Subscription Share Rights.

Board of Directors

Mr John Misselbrook was appointed by shareholders at the AGM, having previously been appointed by the Board of the Company in July 2012, and has now assumed the responsibility as Chairman of the Audit Committee. All remaining Directors were also re-appointed by shareholders at the 2013 AGM having stood for annual re-appointment in accordance with good corporate governance practice.

Outlook

In so much as the growth rates in China inevitably have slowed, the rebalancing of the economy from investment to consumption, as referred to in my annual statement, remains at the forefront of government policy under the new leadership as it puts in place the building blocks for sustainable economic growth. A sharp crackdown on corruption practices, cooling the property sector and tackling the pollution problems are also planks of the policy. This should be positive for the investment environment in the long-term.

Hong Kong, as China's principal off-shore financial services centre, benefits from the momentum and will continue to do so as the role of the renminbi in world trade strengthens and Hong Kong's position as a financial services entrepôt for the currency is enhanced. Your Investment Managers have referred to the stock picking opportunities in Taiwan. As Taiwan economically intertwines increasingly with mainland China, we continue to believe in the advantages to our investment performance of Taiwanese exposure.

Over the six month period ended 31st March 2013, the Company achieved a total return on net assets of $+17.9 \%$ (in sterling terms), outperforming the Company's benchmark return of $+13.0 \%$ by $4.9 \%$.

Stock selection across all three Greater China markets contributed to the majority of the outperformance and the average gearing level of $12.0 \%$ also added to returns. In Taiwan, stock selection was strong within the technology sector (e.g. smart-phone supply chain related stocks), whereas in Hong Kong/China most of the returns came from favourable stock selection in financials (e.g. Chinese property counters) and consumer names (e.g. Macau gaming).

China Review

Chinese equities rose in the fourth quarter of 2012, with the offshore-listed Chinese market (MSCI China) leading domestic A-shares (CSI 300) again. MSCI China rose 12.8\% quarter-on-quarter, after troughing in early September. Three months of better than expected economic data finally started pushing up the CSI 300 in early December, up almost $11 \%$ quarter-on-quarter. Cyclicals such as financials, property, commodity, industrials and discretionary led the market recovery, while defensives such as staples, healthcare and telecommunications lagged. On the economic front, the risk premium came down on better than expected data as well as greater hopes for reforms that would spur on sustainable economic growth after the successful conclusion of the National People's Congress of China held in mid November.

However, Chinese equities corrected in the first quarter of 2013 after the strong rally, on concerns of incremental policy tightening in China and rising sovereign debt risks in Europe. The offshore-listed Chinese market (MSCI China) dropped 4.4\%, while domestic A-shares (CSI 300) dropped 1.1\%. The People's Bank of China started mopping up liquidity through open market operations in February, after very strong January Total Social Financing ('TSF’) of Rmb2.5Trn (vs. Rmb0.98Trn in January 2012) was extended. The anti-corruption campaign by the new leadership negatively affected consumption, with retail sales in January to February at $12.3 \%$ coming in below expectations. Earnings revisions have finally turned neutral after a negative trend throughout 2012.

China Outlook

We expect a mild recovery for the rest of 2013. We believe the earlier than expected incremental policy adjustments are unlikely to derail the macro recovery. The renewed property tightening, combined with monetary policy fine tuning, should prevent property prices appreciating too fast. The structural shortage of property in tier one and selected tier two cities will likely keep property fixed asset investment ('FAI') growing at double digits. Infrastructure FAI should re-accelerate, as evidenced by medium/long-term loans rising to $70 \%$ of total new loans in February (vs. around $30 \%$ in mid 2012).

Worsening pollution issues may restrain construction activities selectively. The new leadership's anti-corruption campaign is needed for longer term growth sustainability, despite the near term negative impact on consumption. The market is trading at 9.3x forward one year price/earnings with $12 \%$ consensus earnings growth which is undemanding, and the recent market correction and continued attractive valuations should support a better market for the rest of the year

Hong Kong Review

Like China, Hong Kong equities continued to move up in the fourth quarter of 2012 owing to continued loose liquidity conditions and improving economic momentum, although it no longer outperformed the region partially due to unprecedented property tightening measures. While further property measures were generally anticipated, including the increased stamp duties for short-term transactions, the so-called buyer's stamp duty for non-local and corporate buyers surprised the market. Macau shares continued their recent rally as growth figures continued to strengthen during the quarter and the market largely shrugged off broader concerns about potential anti-corruption measures in China affecting high-roller volumes.

The year 2013 began with a continuation of the year-end rally in Hong Kong, but most of those gains were eroded as there were renewed concerns over the Eurozone crisis and concerns over both monetary and property tightening, coupled with anti-corruption efforts which weighed on the market in China. The Hong Kong government implemented further measures to dampen the property market, including the doubling of stamp duties and mortgage tightening. Macau shares proved to be volatile, with initial concerns over a weak February, but investors' fears were overcome as March came in at record levels with strong year-on-year growth.

Retail sales in Hong Kong also picked up momentum, with combined January to February increasing $15.8 \%$ year-on-year, faster than the $9.1 \%$ and $9.4 \%$ growth achieved in November and December, respectively.

Hong Kong Outlook

Macro economic risks ranging from the Eurozone crisis to avian flu in China, to the North Korea situation are starting to dominate investor focus. The property market in Hong Kong continues to grind down, with likely price weakness in the near term. However, share valuations have largely reflected this price weakness, especially for property developers. Meanwhile, retail and office property trends remain resilient. Macau gaming revenue momentum remains positive, despite concerns over anti-corruption policies and avian flu. With no new supply additions in the near future, continued top-line growth should translate into strong earnings growth and cash flow generation.

Abstract

Taiwan Review In the last three months of 2012 the TWSE Index edged down slightly, finishing the quarter down 0.2\% in Taiwanese dollars. The Taiwanese market fell, initially driven by disappointment in the sales outlook for both Apple and Windows 8 related products. The PC and handset sectors saw downward revisions in guidance. The market managed to claw back most of the losses, cheered by optimism that the US fiscal cliff could be averted and suggestions by the Taiwanese government regarding stimulus measures to revive the market.

The Taiex was largely flat in USD terms in the first quarter of 2013, led by non-technology and financial sectors, while technology remained muted and underperformed slightly. With an improving demand/supply situation, commodity technology sectors like DRAM, TFT and LED performed well this quarter. Stocks within the low-end smart-phone supply chain continued to perform well. The rotational buying within non-technology sub-sectors remained solid with financials taking the spotlight. In anticipation of financial deregulation, momentum in the financial sector was led by a strong rally in insurance companies which also benefit from yield recovery and asset appreciation themes. However, concerns over China's cooling measures have weakened stocks in the steel, machinery, cement and property sectors over the quarter.

Taiwan Outlook

The Taiwanese market could be volatile in the near term, given new developments surrounding Korea, China's new leadership and avian flu. However, any pull back is likely to be mild as the market has yet to price in a potentially stronger outlook in the latter part of 2013. The Taiwanese economy should have troughed in the fourth quarter of 2012, while most technology companies should see revenues and earnings trough in the first quarter of 2013. Thus, any irrational correction would be a good buying opportunity. While technology should bottom in first quarter of 2013 on a seasonal basis, we believe the bulk of the technology recovery will occur in the latter part of 2013. Thus, interest in the technology sector is likely to be selective and in areas where visibility of earnings growth is clearer. The non-technology space has been seeing positive earnings revisions.

Summary

While the policy environment in all three markets remains in flux, we believe that the global economy will continue its recovery, while closer to home, China has already reached its inflection point in both fiscal and monetary policy. The 'bad news' of the earnings season is completed and as a result, we remain constructive on equity markets in Greater China.

Subscription Shares

Following the passing of the Final Subscription Date of 15th May 2013 and in accordance with the announcement made to the market on 13th May 2013, the UK Listing Authority suspended the listing of the Subscription Shares on 16th May 2013. A Final Subscription Trustee ('Trustee’) has been appointed to act on behalf of the Subscription Shareholders who did not exercise their Subscription Share Rights on or before the Final Subscription Date. The Subscription Share terms state that the Trustee will have to decide within 14 days of the Final Exercise Date, such period expiring at the latest at close of business on 29th May 2013, whether or not to exercise the outstanding Subscription Share Rights.

If, in the opinion of the Trustee, the net proceeds of sale after deduction of all costs and expenses incurred by the Trustee (including its fees) exceed the costs of exercising the Subscription Share Rights, the Trustee will exercise all the outstanding Subscription Share Rights within 14 days of the Final Subscription Date and sell the Ordinary Shares resulting from such exercise in the market. In these circumstances, the Trustee will distribute the net proceeds of any such sale less the costs of exercising the Subscription Share Rights and such other fees and expenses to the persons entitled thereto on a pro rata basis within 56 days of the Final Subscription Date, provided that entitlements of under $£ 5.00$ are retained for the benefit of the Company.

If the Trustee does not exercise the Subscription Share Rights within the period of 14 days following the Final Subscription Date, all the Subscription Share rights will lapse and, in accordance with the shareholder resolutions passed on 22nd January 2013, all outstanding Subscription Shares will be converted immediately into Deferred Shares and automatically repurchased by the Company for a nominal amount and cancelled. The Company shall not be obliged to issue share certificates to shareholders in respect of the Deferred Shares or account to any holder of Deferred Shares for the repurchase moneys in respect of such Deferred Shares.

It is intended that the listing of the Subscription Shares will be cancelled on 28th June 2013.

Interim Management Report

The Company is required to make the following disclosures in its half year report.

Principal Risks and Uncertainties

The principal risks and uncertainties faced by the Company have not changed and fall into the following broad categories: investment underperformance; loss of investment team; discount; market; political and economic; accounting, legal and regulatory; corporate governance and shareholder relations; operational and financial. Information on each of these areas is given in the Business Review within the Annual Report and Accounts for the year ended 30th September 2012.

Related Party Transactions

During the first six months of the current financial year, no transactions with related parties have taken place which have materially affected the financial position or the performance of the Company during the period.

Going Concern

The Directors believe, having considered the Company's investment objectives, risk management policies, capital management policies and procedures, nature of the portfolio and expenditure projections, that the Company has adequate resources, an appropriate financial structure and suitable management arrangements in place to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For these reasons, they consider there is sufficient evidence to continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the accounts.

Glossary of Terms and Definitions

Return to Ordinary shareholders

Total return to the investor, on a mid-market price to mid-market price basis, assuming that all dividends received were reinvested, without transaction costs, into the shares of the Company at the time the shares were quoted ex-dividend.

Return on net assets

Total return on net asset value ('NAV') per share, on a bid value to bid value basis, assuming that all dividends paid out by the Company were reinvested into the shares of the Company at the NAV per share at the time the shares were quoted ex-dividend.

Benchmark total return

Total return on the benchmark, on a mid-market value to mid-market value basis, assuming that all dividends received were reinvested into the shares of the underlying companies at the time the shares were quoted ex-dividend.

The benchmark is a recognised index of stocks which should not be taken as wholly representative of the Company's investment universe. The Company's investment strategy does not track this index and consequently, there may be some divergence between the Company's performance and that of the benchmark.

Ordinary share price discount to net asset value ('NAV') per Ordinary share

If the share price of an investment trust is lower than the NAV per share, the shares are said to be trading at a discount. The discount is shown as a percentage of the NAV per share. The opposite of a discount is a premium. It is more common for an investment trust's shares to trade at a discount than at a premium.

(Loss)/return per Ordinary share

The (loss)/return per Ordinary share represents the (loss)/return on ordinary activities after taxation divided by the weighted average number of Ordinary shares in issue during the period.

Active Position

The active position shows the difference between the Company's holding of an individual stock, sector or country compared with that stock, sector or country's weighting in the Company's benchmark index. A positive number indicates an active decision by the Manager to own more of (i.e. be overweight) a particular stock, sector or country versus the benchmark and a negative number indicates a decision to hold less of (i.e. be underweight) a particular stock, sector or country versus the benchmark.

Hong Kong H-Shares

Companies incorporated in mainland China and listed in Hong Kong and other foreign stock exchanges.

Hong Kong Red Chips

Companies incorporated outside mainland China and listed in Hong Kong, but with controlling shareholders (at least 30\% ownership) from mainland Chinese entities.

Hong Kong P Chips

Companies listed in Hong Kong which are incorporated in the Cayman Islands, Bermuda and the British Virgin Islands, with operations in mainland China. These companies are run by private sector Chinese businessmen.

China A-Shares (Indirect)

Companies incorporated in mainland China and which are traded in the mainland A-Share markets. The prices of A-Shares are quoted in renminbi, and currently only mainlanders and selected foreign institutional investors are allowed to trade A-Shares.

The Company does not invest directly in China A-Shares but instead gains access to the A-Share market by investing into China A-Share access products.

China B-Shares

Companies incorporated in mainland China and traded on the mainland B-Share markets. The prices of B-Shares are quoted in US dollars and are available to both mainlanders and foreign investors.
