Prudential Risk Rating

Medium Risk

These funds may invest in multi-asset strategies with a higher weighting in equities (or with significant derivative use), while funds investing mainly in property, high yield or government bonds (such as UK Gilts) are also in this category.

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

Important Information

- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).

Commentary

Performance as at Q1 2025 - Over the month, gilt yields across the curve rose with UK 2-year yields rising 2bps, UK 5-year yields rising 11 bps, UK 10-year yields rising 19 bps, and UK 30-year yields also rising 19 bps. Elsewhere, US Treasury bond yields fell across the front end of the curve with a more pronounced decline compared to the rest of the curve. The 10-year point remained broadly unchanged, while the US 30-year yields rose by 8 bps. European government bond yields rose across the board. Most notably, the German 30-year yield rose by 39 bps. Yields were driven by continued geopolitical uncertainty around tariff impacts. In Europe, German defense spending announcements were the key yield drivers. Similarity in the UK, the focus was also on the fiscal spending and the Spring Statement from the Labour Government.
