Prudential Risk Rating

Lower to Medium Risk

These funds may invest in corporate bonds or multi-asset strategies with a higher weighting in corporate bonds (and other comparable strategies).

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

Important Information

- Because of changes in exchange rates the value of your investment, as well as any money you take from it, can go down as well as up.
- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).
- Source of portfolio data: Broadridge. Source of performance data: FE fundinfo. We can't predict the future. Past performance isn't a guide to future performance. The figures shown are intended only to demonstrate performance history of the fund, after allowing for the impact of fund charges and further costs, but take no account of any Annual Management Charge paid for by the deduction of units. Charges and further costs may vary in the future and may be higher than they are now. Fund performance is based upon the movement of the daily price and is shown as total return in GBP with gross income reinvested. The value of your client's investment can go down as well as up and the amount your client gets back may be less than they put in.

Commentary

Performance as at Q3 2025 - The third quarter of 2025 saw persistent inflationary pressures in the UK, prompting cautious monetary policy adjustments. June CPI rose to 3.6% year-on-year, and wage growth remained elevated at 6-7%, despite a slight rise in unemployment to 4%. In August, the Bank of England cut the Base Rate by 25bps to 4% in a narrow vote, marking its fifth consecutive cut of the year. However, with inflation still above the 2% target, the BoE paused further easing in September, citing fragile economic conditions and rising unemployment. In the Euro area, the European Central Bank held its deposit rate at 2%, signalling a pause in the easing cycle.

Inflation moderated, with headline CPI at 1.9% and core inflation at 2.3%. Germany's business activity weakened, with manufacturing and services PMIs in contraction.

France faced political instability following the collapse of PM Bayrou's government over a failed austerity package. The budget deficit reached 5.4%, youth unemployment rose to 18.2%, and industrial output declined. Fitch downgraded France to A+ due to limited fiscal flexibility and rising debt costs.

In the US, Q3 was shaped by geopolitical tensions, fiscal stimulus, and shifting monetary policy. The administration escalated tariffs, including a 35% rate on Canadian goods, while passing a major tax cut package. Inflation ticked up to 2.7% in June, and labour market data weakened, with only 73,000 jobs added in July. By September, unemployment rose to 4.3%, and job growth slowed further. The Federal Reserve responded with its first rate cut of the year, lowering the target range to 4.00–4.25%, citing rising unemployment risks and signalling a more accommodative stance for the remainder of the year.

Credit markets performed well across regions. Investment grade corporate bond spreads tightened to 78bps in Euro IG (-13bps), 81bps in UK IG (-15bps), and 76bps in US IG (-10bps). Total returns were positive: +0.91% in Euro IG, +0.74% in UK IG, and +2.65% in US IG. Government bonds delivered mixed results, with US Treasuries outperforming (+1.56%), while Euro and UK government bonds posted negative returns of -0.34% and -0.75%, respectively. High yield credit spreads also tightened, ending at 268bps in Euro HY (-48bps) and 280bps in US HY (-16bps). Total returns were +1.89% in Euro HY and +2.40% in US HY.
