Prudential Risk Rating

Higher Risk

These are specialist equity funds that focus on set geographical regions or a particular type of share e.g. shares of smaller companies or those that conform to certain criteria.

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund's risk rating with an adviser.

Important Information

- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).

Commentary

Performance as at Q4 2024 - Over the month, yields across both US and UK government bonds ticked back up as markets priced out expectations of policy rate cuts for 2025. While the Federal Reserve cut their policy rate in December, as expected, they also indicated a slowing of cuts in 2025 as inflation remained stubborn. Similarly, inflation in the UK showed a renewed stickiness in the November print, leading the market to go from pricing three cuts for 2025 at the end of November, to pricing a little under two and a half cuts by the end of December. The effects of this change in sentiment across both the UK and US markets has been to increase government bond yields, with UK yields reaching their 2024 peak.
