Prudential Risk Rating

Lower to Medium Risk

These funds may invest in corporate bonds or multi-asset strategies with a higher weighting in corporate bonds (and other comparable strategies).

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund's potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund's level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund's risk rating with an adviser.

Important Information

- Because of changes in exchange rates the value of your investment, as well as any money you take from it, can go down as well as up.
- Some funds may invest in 'underlying' funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it's invested in won't be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund's dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).
- Source of portfolio data: Broadridge. Source of performance data: FE fundinfo. We can't predict the future. Past performance isn't a guide to future performance. The figures shown are intended only to demonstrate performance history of the fund, after allowing for the impact of fund charges and further costs, but take no account of any Annual Management Charge paid for by the deduction of units. Charges and further costs may vary in the future and may be higher than they are now. Fund performance is based upon the movement of the daily price and is shown as total return in GBP with gross income reinvested. The value of your investment can go down as well as up so you might get back less than you put in.

Commentary

Performance as at Q4 2024 - During the quarter the funds underwent a change to the strategic allocation, with the addition of Indian equity, commodities to the alternatives asset class and a further diversification of property by adding North America to real estate. Equity markets overall produced slightly negative local returns during the quarter, driven by central bank moves and political developments. Global equities were led by the US, which rallied following Donald Trump's victory in the presidential election as well as a strong dollar, which gave a robust return when measured in GBP terms. The fund's allocation to fixed income cost some performance, as global government bonds declined, despite widespread cuts in interest rates. US government bonds experienced significant election-induced volatility and European bonds were affected by political turmoil. UK gilt prices were hurt by concerns over growth and inflation following the new Labour government's budget. Corporate bonds fared better than government debt, with riskier high yield bonds the best performers. Real estate suffered more as higher bond yields led to a re-rating of the asset class. Alternative assets added slightly. Tactically, the fund has an above-index allocation to equities, comprising a diversified basket of US, UK, Asia and global emerging markets. The fund also has some small below-index positions in European credit and cash. We also hold small above-index positions in US Treasuries and real estate. Central banks' interest rate cutting cycles have been rapidly reassessed in recent weeks, following stronger data, fiscal/policy uncertainty and some stickier inflation. In our opinion, a robust US economy, with the potential for increased spending and tax cuts, should be good for risk assets, but regional differentiation could be larger than usual, with decoupled economic cycles and the potential for trade wars. Heightened geo-political tensions remain a significant near-term risk.
