Investment objective

The Fund objective is to achieve a positive total return (income and capital growth) over a rolling five year period, after the deduction of all fees, whilst targeting volatility (i.e. the degree of fluctuation of the value of the assets) of its portfolio of between 70% and 80% of the volatility of the FTSE All Share Index over the same rolling five year period. Although the Fund aims to deliver a positive total return over a rolling five year period, there is no guarantee that this will be achieved over this time period, or any time period.

Market commentary

Global indices lost ground in May as investors expectations regarding the economic outlook worsened. Whilst headline CPI in all regions retreated from their peaks, that retreat has not been fast enough to satisfy central banks. As a result, the expectation that rates will be "higher for longer" continues. The good news is that the application of tighter monetary policy means that longer term inflation expectations have not become unanchored. And while bond markets are struggling to generate decent positive total returns this year, they are not delivering the losses experienced in 2021 and 2022. The not so good news is that the world is having to learn to live with higher interest rates and a higher cost of capital. We believe that preservation of capital is the best course of action for now while at the same time continuing to seek out idiosyncratic investment opportunities that are not entirely dependent upon the whims of politicians and central bankers. We believe that the current cycle of uncertainty will be resolved over the next few months and look forward to being able to convey a more optimistic outlook in the months ahead.

Fund Manager commentary

The fund outperformed for the month of May. All asset classes were negative over the period, with Property drawing down by the largest degree but Equities proving to be the largest detractor given the higher weighting towards the asset class. Large cap tech led the market, with the likes of Nvidia, Alphabet and ASML Holdings producing double digit returns. Consumer Goods with more defensive characteristics struggled, with Diageo, Unilever and Estee Lauder lagging. Within Fixed Interest, the short dated 2024 index linked gilt was the only position to produce a positive return, with the iShares USD Treasury Bond 7-10yr detracting by the largest degree given it's position size and performance. Alternatives were mixed, with Gold and Pantheon Infrastructure producing positive returns whilst the rest of the holdings were negative. Yield expansion tended to weigh negatively on the likes of INPP, Greencoat UK Wind and HICL. Triple Point Social Housing was the standout performer in property, driven by its closest competitor Civitas Social Housing being bid for.
