Fund Description

The Lazard Commodities Fund seeks to generate strong relative returns in excess of the Bloomberg Commodity Index over a full market cycle. The strategy provides long-only, unlevered, and fully collateralized exposure to listed and unlisted commodities, through the use of publicly-traded futures as well as commodity-related equity securities. The team takes a fundamentally-driven, actively-managed approach to commodity investing.

Risk Rating

Key Risks Related to the Fund

There is no capital guarantee or protection of the value of the Fund. The value of your investment and the income from it can go down as well as up and you may not get back the amount you originally invested.

The Fund's investment in commodity-related financial derivative instruments and equity securities of commodity-related companies may subject the Fund to greater volatility than investments in traditional securities.

The Fund may invest a significant amount of its value in deposits and/or money market instruments, but should not be considered by investors as an alternative to investing in a regular deposit account. Investors should note that a holding in the Fund is subject to the risks associated with investing in a collective investment undertaking, in particular fluctuations in value.

Key Risks Related to the Share Class

The returns from your investment may be affected by changes in the exchange rate between the Fund's base currency, the currency of the Fund's investments, your share class and your home currency.

This is an unhedged share class, your shares will be exposed to exchange rate fluctuations between their denominated currency and the base currency of the Fund. This may affect the performance of your shares.

See "Risk Factors" in the UCITS' Prospectus and Fund Supplement for more information about risks.
