ROYAL LONDON UK EQUITY FUND

31.03.24

Overview

The Fund's investment objective is to achieve capital growth over the medium term (3-5 years) by investing at least 80% in the shares of UK companies included in the FTSE All-Share Index. The Fund's performance target is to outperform, after the deduction of charges, the FTSE All-Share Total Return GBP Index (the "Index") over rolling 5-year periods. The Index is regarded as a good measure of the share-price performance of the approximately 600 largest companies on the London Stock Exchange. The Index is considered an appropriate benchmark for the Fund's performance, as the Fund's potential investments will predominantly be included in the Index. In addition to the benchmark for the Fund's performance as noted above (the "Index"), the IA UK All Companies sector is considered an appropriate benchmark for performance comparison.

Fund Commentary

March saw strong performance from risk assets with equity markets around the world rising reflecting an anticipation that the US economy will continue to experience a soft landing coupled with hopes that interest rates will be able to decline later this year. Markets were also underpinned by the stimulus that is being provided to build out of US infrastructure and the hope AI will make a meaningful difference to the efficiency and growth potential of corporates. In the UK the FTSE All-Share appreciated by 4.8%, helped by an encouraging corporate reporting season and growing amount of corporate activity in the form of mergers and acquisitions. The Mid-250 Index rose by 5.7% during March reflecting growing corporate activity and a hope that the outlook for domestic earnings has troughed and will start to improve from here. Overall, the best performing sectors in the UK during March included the banks and miners, which are both geared into global economy, whilst consumer staples underperformed due to its defensive characteristics.

During March the Trust outperformed the FTSE All-Share and was positioned in the second quartile compared to peers. During the month the best contributors included 3I, Vistry and DS Smith. 3I held a capital markets day to highlight the strong performance of Action, the European discount retailer that that they own a majority holding in, which is performing strongly. Vistry delivered attractive numbers reflecting its growing partnerships business and DS Smith was subject to a bid from Mondi. In contrast the share price in Spectris fell sharply post figures as investors grew concerned about short term weakness in demand, however the long-term case remains intact in our opinion. Ashtead declined post the release of their latest profit numbers, this largely reflected expectations being elevated, rather than any long-term concern in their investment case.

Transactions during March included adding to the position in BAE as the outlook for defence expenditure looks attractive on a multi-year view. We also added to Melrose which continues to benefit from the strength of the aerospace cycle. We reduced the holding in BATS to fund transactions which despite the low valuation has struggled operationally and we believe we can use the capital better elsewhere.
