Investment Adviser's Report

For the period ended 31 August 2024

Investment Objective

The objective of the Fund is to provide capital growth over any 5-year period.

Investment Policy

The Company will be actively managed to provide exposure to a wide range of assets in any economic sector and geographical area in line with the Investment Managers tactical views. The term "tactical" is defined as using judgement to forecast future opportunities or threats and make periodic adjustments to the asset allocation and underlying investment selections. Overall exposure to shares will be a minimum of 30% and a maximum of 90%, although under normal market conditions the exposure is more likely to range between 50% and 80%. Overall exposure to bonds will be a minimum of 10% and a maximum of 50%. Overall exposure to property will be limited to a maximum of 20%. Overall exposure to alternative investment strategies such as commodities and private equity will be limited to a maximum of 30%.

To provide exposure, a minimum of 70% of the Company will be invested in active and/or passively managed collective investment schemes (which may include schemes operated by the ACD, associates or controllers of the ACD).

The Company may also invest directly (maximum of 30%) in transferable securities such as shares, bonds, real estate investment trusts (REITs) and structured products which may embed derivatives.

The Company may use cash and near cash as part of the allocation and the level will vary depending upon prevailing circumstances. Although exposure would normally not exceed 10% of the total value of the Company, there may be times when the Investment Manager considers markets around the world to be overpriced or that a period of instability exists which presents unusual risks. In such cases or during such periods and, if considered prudent, the exposure to cash or near cash instruments held would be increased. Unless market conditions were deemed unusually risky, the increased amount and period would not be expected to exceed 60% and six months respectively.

The use of derivatives and/or hedging transactions are permitted in connection with the efficient portfolio management (managing the Company in a way that is designed to reduce risk or cost and/or generate extra income or growth or both). The Company may hold assets which embed derivatives that are used for investment purposes and efficient portfolio management.

Performance Comparison

There are three types of benchmarks which can be used:

- 1. A target an index or similar factor that is part of a target a fund manager has set for a fund's performance to match or exceed, which includes anything used for performance fee calculation.
- 2. A constraint an index or similar factor that fund managers use to limit or constrain how they construct a fund's portfolio.
- 3. A comparator an index or similar factor against which a fund manager invites investors to compare a fund's performance.

The Fund does not have a performance target and is not constrained by any index, IA sector or similar factor.

The composite benchmark of 40% IA (Investment Association) UK Gilt, 30% IA UK All Companies and 30% IA Global may be used as a comparator. This benchmark represents the expected long term asset allocation under normal market conditions and therefore this is considered to be an appropriate performance comparison.

Benchmarks

The Company does not have a performance target and is not constrained by any index, IA sector or similar factor. The composite benchmark of 40% IA (Investment Association) UK Gilt, 30% IA UK All Companies and 30% IA Global may be used as a comparator. This benchmark represents the expected strategic (long term) asset allocation of the fund and therefore this is considered to be an appropriate performance comparison.

Markets have ultimately moved higher over the six-month period. Investors have continued to be sensitive to economic data releases - particularly inflation and unemployment - that will likely give hints as to the path of interest rate cuts. The yield curves' downward move has been the most prominent in the US as they have held off on cutting interest rates, whereas the UK began their rate cutting cycle in early August. Spreads in the corporate bond market remain tight and default rates low as both corporate balance sheets and earnings growth remain healthy.

UK equities have been the strongest performer as political stability has boosted sentiment and begun to bring investors back after a long period of neglect. The technology sector has led the way in the US and Asia as the expectations of Artificial Intelligence's impact on future company earnings has, arguably, got out of hand. China has been a laggard as they grapple with structurally changing their economy, however, these losses have been offset in the Emerging Markets Index by the growing demand in India and the strong returns seen there. Japan raised interest rates and detailed plans to slow its bond buying programme, in turn strengthening their currency, which has been linked to a wobble in markets at the start of August, where Japanese equities fell 28% from peak to tough and subsequently rebounded to end 8% below the peak.

Two key allocation changes were implemented in May and July. In May, we made a strategic decision to reduce our allocation to UK equities as the structural changes in the market cannot be ignored. We rotated this allocation into bonds. We invested in index linked gilts on attractive positive real yields and introduced a new fund in Man GLG Dynamic Income to provide flexible exposure between credit ratings in corporate bonds.

In July, we moved underweight bonds, taking profits in index-linked gilts, and went marginally overweight equities, ultimately reshaping the equity allocations between the UK, US and Europe to ensure the impact at client portfolio level aligns to target. We are cautious of a resurgence in inflation and generally expect higher levels than we have seen in the past decade. Equities have a greater capacity to provide real returns above inflation, and bonds, particularly at the long end of the curve, are more susceptible to disappointment.

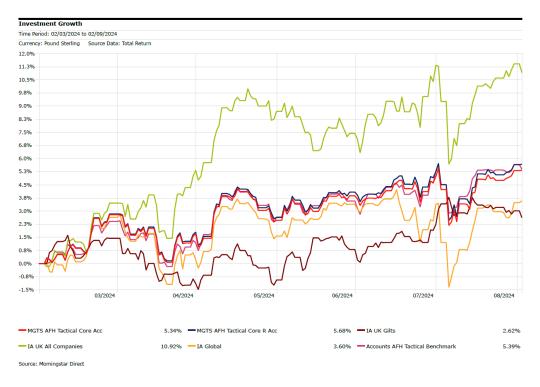

The Fund has performed strongly over the six months, returning 5.34%, in line with the composite benchmark.

The Fund remains a tactical implementation vehicle and won't always reflect our full views. However, we expect UK equities to benefit from the recent momentum and positively turning sentiment. While the timing is difficult to predict, we anticipate the current narrow leadership in the US to broaden out and the 'Magnificent 7' to underperform, while the relatively cheap smaller companies will be a benefit of lower interest rates.

Allocations in the bond space will remain fluid and attuned to the changing inflation and rates environment. In the interim, we see short duration as an attractive space to benefit from higher yields, without taking unnecessary price risk.
