Aubrey Global Emerging Markets Opportunities Fund (the "Sub-Fund"), a sub-fund of Aubrey Capital Management Access Fund (the "Fund") Class RC1 GBP - LU1391034839 (the "Class")

Management Company: Edmond de Rothschild Asset Management (Luxembourg)

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Sub-Fund's investment objective is to seek investment returns through long term capital appreciation, by investing primarily in Emerging Market companies. These companies are analysed and monitored based on the investment manager's ESG Methodology. In doing so, the Sub-Fund promotes environmental and social characteristics in accordance with Article 8 of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector (SFDR), but does not invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

In order to achieve its investment objective, the Sub-Fund invests primarily in equity securities of companies that are domiciled, or carrying out the main part of their economic activity, in an Emerging Market country, often with a particular emphasis on, or exposure to, the Emerging Markets consumer sector. Such equity securities may include eligible China A-shares in which the Sub-Fund may invest through the Stock Connect Scheme.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed on a discretionary basis. The MSCI Daily TR Net Emerging Markets USD index has been selected as a comparator benchmark as this is a widely-used indicator of the performance of emerging markets stockmarkets, in which the Sub-Fund invests. Management of the Sub-Fund is not restricted by this comparator.

The Sub-Fund may also hold corporate bonds, cash and cash equivalents on an ancillary basis.

Such investments may be denominated in the local currency and may therefore not be denominated in US dollars. The Sub-Fund may enter into currency hedging transactions in order to hedge, in whole or in part, currency fluctuations of some or all of the non-US dollar denominated investments against the US dollar.

The Sub-Fund may enter into currency hedging transactions in order to hedge, in whole or in part, currency fluctuations of some or all of the non-US Dollar denominated investments against the US Dollar.

The Sub-Fund may also invest in financial derivative instruments for investment and hedging purposes. Such financial derivative instruments may include futures, forwards, options, swaps and swap options and warrants.

Recommended holding period of 7 minimum years.

Frequency of share buying or selling: Every Luxembourg and London bank business day for orders received on each NAV calculation day before 12:00 midday (Luxembourg time).

Income allocation: Accumulation.

Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk Higher risk
Potentially lower reward Potentially higher reward

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The definition of the risk and reward category is based on the historical performance data and/or the risk limit indicated in the Sub-Fund's investment policy. It may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The risk and reward category shown may change over time. Category 1 does not mean that an investment is risk-free. Investors should note that the Sub-Fund is not guaranteed or capital protected.

This Sub-Fund is rated in category 6, in line with the type of securities and geographic regions detailed under the heading "Objectives and investment policy", as well as the currency of the unit.

Significant risks not taken into account in this indicator:

Emerging Market Risk: The Sub-Fund invests in Emerging Market shares. Such shares typically have a higher than average risk compared to investing in more established markets. Your investment may be affected by local market conditions including political, economic and regulatory developments in those countries. Investment in China A Shares via the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect Scheme may also entail additional risks, such as risks linked to the ownership of shares.

Concentration Risk: The Sub-Fund's investment strategy has a particular emphasis on the Emerging Market consumer sector. The value of the Sub-Fund is therefore affected by sector specific factors to a greater degree than other, broader based and diversified investments.

Currency risk: For the investments denominated in a currency different for the reference Sub-Fund currency, the changes in exchange rates in relation to the reference currency of the Sub-Fund may adversely affect the Sub-Fund investment value.

Derivatives risk: The use of derivatives can result in greater fluctuations of the assets and may cause the Sub-Fund to lose as much as or more than the amount invested. Due to the use of derivatives, the Sub-Fund may have an increased exposure to particular investment known as leverage. A fall in value of such investments can result in a proportionately greater loss.

Counterparty Risk: There is a risk that the counterparty of one or more financial derivatives that the Sub-Fund may invest in may default and the Sub-Fund may suffer a significant loss of its value.

Operational Risk: Failure of procedures or systems, as well as human error or external events associated with the Sub-Fund's management and/or administration, may cause losses to the Sub-Fund.

Liquidity risk: The markets for some securities and instruments may have limited liquidity. This limited liquidity could be a disadvantage to the Sub-Fund, both in the realization of the prices quoted and the execution of orders at desired prices.

The occurrence of any of these risks may negatively impact the net asset value.
