O - GBP (acc)(Hedged) ISIN:LU1708194110,
This fund is managed by Candriam,
Part of the New York Life Insurance Company Group of companies

Objectives and investment policy

The fund aims to provide you with long-term total returns consisting of regular dividend income and capital growth by investing primarily in equity securities of companies located in or with significant business interests in emerging markets with above average dividend yields.

The fund is actively managed in reference to the MSCI Emerging Markets Total Return Net Index (USD) (the "Benchmark") for performance comparison and risk management purposes. The sub-investment manager of the Fund has full freedom and discretion to deviate from the Benchmark when making investments and the Fund is not constrained by the Benchmark. The investments can significantly deviate from the Benchmark. The fund will invest primarily based on fundamental research, although the sub-investment manager will also consider quantitative and technical factors. The sub-investment manager selects individual companies that are undervalued in order to construct a portfolio with above average dividend yields. The sub-investment manager will also assess the economic outlook for each emerging market region, including expected growth, market valuations and economic trends. The fund may invest in open-ended investment funds and equity-linked instruments such as participatory notes. The fund may use derivatives (such as options, futures, forwards and swaps) to achieve the investment objective and to reduce risk or manage the fund more efficiently.

The Fund promotes environmental or social characteristics, through its ESG integration, in the sense of the Article 8 of the SFDR.

If you hold shares in a class that pays dividends we expect that any income generated by the fund will be paid out to you on a regular basis. For other share classes, any income the fund makes will be reinvested to grow your investment.

You can redeem some or all of your shares on any day on which banks in Luxembourg are open for normal banking business (a "Business Day").

Recommendation: this fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

Risk and reward profile

The Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator illustrates where the class ranks in terms of its potential risk and return. The higher the rank the greater the potential reward but the greater the risk of losing money.

The shaded area in the table above shows the Class's ranking based on the Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator. It is based upon how much the price of the Class has moved up and down in the past. The share class is ranked at 6, because it invests in equity securities located in Asia (excluding Japan) whose values tend to fluctuate more widely. Please note that the calculation is based on past information and may not reliably predict how the share class will perform in the future. Its ranking may shift over time and therefore is not guaranteed to remain unchanged. Please note that the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

The Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator does not take into account the following:

- Liquidity Risk: There is no guarantee that the fund can prevent liquidity risks. In highly volatile markets, certain securities may become less liquid, which means they cannot be sold as quickly or easily. Some securities may be illiquid because of legal restrictions, the nature of the investment and certain features such as guarantees or a lack of buyers interest in the particular security or market.
- Operational Risk: A fund's investments may be adversely affected due to the operational process of the fund. A fund may be subject to losses arising from inadequate or failed internal controls, processes and systems, or from human or external events.
- Derivatives: Losses incurred or variations in market prices could be amplified when the fund uses derivatives.
- There is no guarantee that the fund can prevent currency risks. The fund may use derivatives to reduce or manage the risk.
- The fund may not be able to prevent emerging markets risk. Investing in emerging markets securities may be more volatile than those in developed markets due to political, economic, legal, trading liquidity, settlement transfer of securities and currency factors.
