The Multi Asset Growth Funds Range

What happened this month

The Fund delivered a positive return in the first quarter. The year-end equity rally continued into the new year, propelling benchmark indices in the US, Europe and Japan to record highs. Sentiment was boosted by strong earnings results, optimism over artificial intelligence (AI)-related technology and continued resilient US growth. Meanwhile, fixed income markets came under pressure amid a pushback by central banks on imminent rate cuts. In this market environment, the performance of our large exposure to equities was additive. Within the asset class, the US was boosted by strong quarterly results and excitement over AI. In contrast, the UK and emerging markets underperformed other markets, the former due to stubborn inflation and the latter dragged lower by Chinese equities. Our active management within equities was rewarded with strong excess returns from the UK Equity Fund, Japan Equity Fund and the Emerging Markets Equity Fund. Our convertible bonds exposure was also beneficial due to their sensitivity to equities. Our small allocation to listed infrastructure was additive, but our listed real estate exposure detracted given the higher rates environment and the pushback on rate cuts. Our small exposure to commodities was helpful due to higher gold and oil prices over the period.
