

LIONTRUST MA PASSIVE INTERMEDIATE

The value of investments and any income provided by them can go down as well up. Investors could get back less than invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. This factsheet is for information purposes only and is not designed to provide advice on the suitability of an investment for your personal situation. If you have any questions regarding this factsheet, you are recommended to speak to a financial adviser.

Investment Objective and Policy Summary

The Fund seeks to achieve capital growth and income with a median level of volatility (risk), having a risk profile of 4, in a range from 1 to 7 where 1 is the lowest risk and 7 the highest. The risk profile used by Liontrust to produce the long term asset allocation differs from the Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator shown elsewhere in this document, so the two rankings may not be the same. The Fund is an actively managed fund of funds which invests at least 70% of its assets in other funds (underlying funds), including those traded on stock exchanges, other closed-ended funds and funds managed by Liontrust or its associates. The underlying funds will invest in a range of asset classes including shares, bonds, money market instruments, freely transferable rights to buy other investments at a future date (warrants), financial contracts that derive their values from other investment or indices (derivatives) and deposits. The underlying funds will where practicably possible be passive funds, meaning they seek to track investment indices. The Fund may invest directly in the above asset classes. The Fund may obtain indirect exposure to property through Real Estate Investment Trusts and shares in property investment companies. The Fund aims to take a median level of risk. Liontrust selects investments for the Fund according to its long-term asset allocation based on its risk profile. Liontrust may change the combination of assets for the Fund over the short to medium term where it sees a benefit in doing so, as long as its overall long-term risk profile remains similar.

Commentary

January began in a similarly positive vein as 2020 ended before markets dipped towards the end of the month. The Brexit deal may have been signed but we have already seen some trade issues and there remains much work to be done. In the US, new presidents typically enjoy a spell of strong market performance, but equities are already near all-time highs. However, we would still expect markets to react favourably to President Biden's significant fiscal stimulus, his multilateral trade agenda and plans for stepping up vaccine rollout. The latter point is key to eliminating Covid-19 but despite some progress that remains a rather distant hope at present with large parts of the world back in lockdown. More encouraging is the slight upgrade to global growth forecasts. Despite serious ongoing risks, the government spending measures in the US and Japan are positives, with growth estimates for both significantly upgraded as a result. In contrast, activity in Britain and the euro area is expected to remain below pre-pandemic levels into 2022. In our Passive funds we closely adhere to a long-term strategic asset allocation (the proportions of the overall fund held in different asset classes). The asset allocation is reviewed and adjusted every quarter, with the latest changes made during December to bring the fund in line with the new allocation. Given some of the volatility in markets during January we allowed the cash allocation to increase slightly while reducing our equity holdings in the UK, Japan and Europe. We also removed the Vanguard FTSE Developed Europe Ex UK ETF, adding instead to the institutional share class of the same fund that offers better value for money.

This risk indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The category may shift over time and is not guaranteed.

Funds of category 4 have shown in the past low to medium volatility. Volatility describes how much the value of the fund went up and down. The shares of a fund of category 4 might be subject to low to medium fluctuations based on the historical volatility.

The following are additional risks not covered by the risk and reward category:

Credit Risk: There is a risk that an investment will fail to make required payments and this may reduce the income paid to the fund, or its capital value.

Counterparty Risk: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Fund to financial loss.

Liquidity Risk: If underlying funds suspend or defer the payment of redemption proceeds, the Fund's ability to meet redemption requests may also be affected.

Interest Rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may affect the value of the Fund and your investment.

Derivatives Risk: Some of the underlying funds may invest in derivatives, which can, in some circumstances, create wider fluctuations in their prices over time.

Emerging Markets: The Fund may invest in less economically developed markets (emerging markets) which can involve greater risks than well developed economies.

Currency Risk: The Fund invests in overseas markets and the value of the Fund may fall or rise as a result of changes in exchange rates.

Index Tracking Risk: The performance of any passive funds used may not exactly track that of their Indices.

Important information

Yield is the amount of income generated by a fund's investment in relation to the price shown as an annual percentage.

The charge is expressed as a percentage per annum but is normally taken daily from the fund and is calculated based on the value of funds under management. Normally the fund manager reserves the right to review the level of charge.

The Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF), is a charge you'll pay over a year for as long as you hold your investment, it is made up of the Annual Management Charge (AMC) and other operating costs. Other charges may occur.
