PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The TM Stonehage Fleming UK Balanced Income fund returned 2.0% in February, whilst the MSCI UK All Cap NR USD Index returned 2.2%.

Accelerating vaccine rollouts and hopes of additional fiscal stimulus in the US continued to lift markets. Increasing inflation expectations saw bond yields moving higher, which created volatility towards the end of the month. The UK market's value bias meant UK equities outperformed on reopening optimism.

Within the portfolio, cyclical exposure outperformed, while defensive exposure underperformed given the reopening trade. Materials exposure was the top sector performer amid rallying commodity prices. Notable rebounds were seen in other cyclical areas that had been particularly out of favour, including easyJet and banks. Consumer Staples and Healthcare were the top sector detractors, weighed down by their defensive nature.
