ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL CONDITIONS

The last twelve months have ended on an extremely positive note for risky assets, continuing a trend that was already favourable during the previous period. The scenario of resilient global growth, coupled with solid corporate earnings and falling inflation, consolidating the disinflationary rhetoric of central banks, and optimism surrounding artificial intelligence (AI), more than offset the high geopolitical uncertainty. However, the context remained tense, whether in terms of major conflicts (wars in Ukraine and the Middle East) or on the political front (dissolution of the National Assembly in France, US elections).

The economic outlook has improved overall. While major regional disparities remained, with weak economic momentum in Europe and China, the United States and emerging markets (excluding China) emerged as the engines of global growth. Moreover, US GDP figures published quarterly have also been revised upwards on several occasions. They confirmed the US economy has had sustained growth above long-term potential over the last eight quarters. The main driver of this growth has been US consumption, with spending accounting for around two-thirds of GDP. The surplus savings accumulated during the pandemic and the strength of the labour market have supported purchasing power. The Chinese economy, which has been struggling since the covid crisis, with falling consumption and investment and persistent deflationary pressures, got a boost from a major new stimulus package over the summer. The authorities have implemented a series of strong monetary policy measures, as well as targeted support for the equity and property markets, raising hopes that the economy will stabilise and achieve the official 5% growth target.

The period under review also brought some relief on the inflation front, whereas investors had ended the previous period with concerns about whether inflation would continue to fall. In the United States, reassuring figures were seen across a wide range of statistics (core CPI, CPI headline, PPI, core PCE), confirming the progress made on disinflation. A similar trend was seen in the euro zone, with inflation in September falling back below the European Central Bank's (ECB) 2% target. At 1.8%, this is the lowest figure since April 2021.

Against this backdrop, central banks in developed countries were able to begin cutting their key rates, following in the footsteps of those in emerging countries, which had already done so last year. The Swiss National Bank (SNB) was the first to take the plunge in March. On three occasions, its key rate was cut by 25 basis points (bp) to 1%. With two 25 bp cuts, the ECB has adopted a policy of taking small steps in the face of a sluggish economy. In September, the Federal Reserve (Fed) cut rates by half a percentage point, hitting back hard, and forecasting a further half point by the end of 2024.

The global stock market outlook was also buoyed by the momentum of US equities, and more specifically by the AI theme. The promise of AI, through the surge in the shares of the "Magnificent 7" (Nvidia, Microsoft, Apple, Amazon, Meta, Alphabet and Tesla, the major US players in the sector), underpinned the market's rise. The dispersion of performance between the Mag 7 and the rest of the market was thus considerable, underlining the capacity of AI to disrupt industries and market expectations. The Mag 7 are up 44.4% in 2024 and have dominated the S&P500 index, accounting for around 30% of its market capitalisation.

To conclude, a resilient macroeconomic environment played a stabilising role in supporting corporate earnings. The quarterly figures published on the vast majority of stock markets showed positive earnings momentum, albeit at a slower pace.

The behaviour of financial markets calls for several observations. The period ended on a highly positive note for equities. Buoyed by a scenario of a soft landing for the US economy and generally good corporate results, several stock market indices reached unprecedented levels during the period (the three main US indices, the DAX and the FTSE 100). Expressed in local currencies, the MSCI World indices gained 7.2% and 30.4%, respectively. On a regional level, the United States outperformed all other equity markets. With a gain of 36.3%, the S&P500 index benefited from its bias to large caps, which have grown from advances in the field of AI. However, that over the last three months, the recovery has extended to segments benefiting from lower interest rates, such as financials, real estate and small- and mid-cap sectors. Euro zone equities also earned solid returns of 20.4%, as did emerging equities. The latter recorded a performance of 25.0%, driven mainly by Indian equities (+41.6%). The Chinese market also contributed to this trend, with a positive performance of 22.4%. The many new stimulus measures aimed at stabilising the property sector and restoring consumer confidence triggered a spectacular rally in stock prices in September. Elsewhere in Asia, Japanese equities were at the other end of the spectrum, up 16.5%. The Bank of Japan's (BoJ) 25bp rate hike and decision to halve its purchases of government bonds, as well as the liquidation of short positions in the yen, weighed on the trend. The UK equity market also lagged (+12.2%), due to a combination of higher exposure to underperforming energy stocks and the strength of sterling.

In fixed income, bond markets benefited from disinflation and the easing of monetary conditions by central banks. Expressed in local currencies, developed-economy sovereign bonds posted positive performances (BofAML Euro Govt: +9.3%, BofAML US Govt: +9.9%). In broad terms, the positive economic backdrop gave a boost to the riskiest bond segments. The solid resilience of the economy was reflected in corporate earnings, which helped keep credit spreads down. As such, we saw double-digit performances from investment-grade corporate bonds (ICE BofA Global Corporate: +12.6%) and high-yield bonds (ICE BofA Global High Yield: +15.6%), as well as from emerging-market debt in US dollar and local currencies (JPM EMBI USD: +18.6%; ML GBI-EM: +13.4%).

All alternative investment segments posted positive performances over the period, with the exception of commodities. Gold hit a record high as it climbed over $2,600 an ounce. Buoyed by substantial purchases by central banks in emerging markets such as China, and by geopolitical risks, the yellow metal has posted a remarkable gain of more than 40%. On the other hand, the geopolitical context did not play in favour of the price of Brent crude oil, which ended down 14.0% against a backdrop of high volatility. The energy sector dragged down the GSCI commodities index (-6.1%). Supportive conditions also helped hedge funds to advance by 6.9% (HFRX Global Index).

Report of the Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé / Auditor's report

To the Shareholders of Pictet
(Société d'Investissement à Capital Variable de droit Luxembourgeois)
15, Avenue J.F. Kennedy

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Pictet (the "SICAV") and of each of its sub-funds, which comprise the statement of net assets and the statement of investments and other net assets as at September 30, 2024, the statement of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the SICAV and of each of its sub-funds as at September 30, 2024, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Emphasis of matter

We draw attention to Note 21 to the financial statements, which describes the decisions taken by the Board of Directors of the SICAV, in the context of the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, to value at zero the Russian securities in local and hard currency together with RUB cash and deposit accounts and to suspend the calculation of the net asset value, the subscriptions, the redemptions of shares, as well as to waive the management fees of the sub-fund Pictet - Russian Equities as from February 28, 2022.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of July 23, 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 2 July 23, 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under the Law of July 23, 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our report. We are also independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the SICAV is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the SICAV for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the SICAV is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the SICAV determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the SICAV is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the SICAV either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law dated July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law dated July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the SICAV.
- Conclude on the appropriateness the Board of Directors of the SICAV's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé". However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
