Intended retail investor

Intended investors in the Company are asset and wealth managers, other institutional or sophisticated investors and private individuals. An investment in the Company is suitable only for investors who are capable of evaluating the risks and merits of such investment. This Company is intended for investors who would like their investment to generate income, can afford to invest for at least 5 years and can bear significant changes to the value of their investment. Most investors will hold this investment as part of wider investment strategy which consists of a diverse variety of assets.

Term

The Company has an unlimited life and there is no maturity date for the ordinary shares. There is no recommended holding period for the ordinary shares, although five years have been used for the purposes of the calculations in this document. The Company may, but is under no obligation to, repurchase ordinary shares and investors should expect that the primary means of disposing of ordinary shares will be by sales on the secondary market.

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years. You may not be able to cash in early. You may not be able to sell your product easily or you may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this Company compared to other companies. It shows how likely it is that the Company will lose money because of movements in the market or because we are not able to pay you.

This company is classified as 6 out of 7, which is the second-highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact the capacity to pay you.

Independent valuers are used to assess the value of each property in which the Company invests. This is a matter of opinion and the true value may not be recognised until a property is sold. If values in the property market go down or rental income decreases, the Company's value is likely to be negatively affected.

This Company does not include any protection from future market performance, so you could lose some or all of your investment.
