What is this product?

Type: The PRIIP was incorporated in England and Wales on 21st February 2018, as a public company limited by shares. The PRIIP is expected to mature on 02 April 2021.

Shares of the PRIIP are bought and sold via markets. Typically, at any given time on any given day, the price you pay for a share will be higher than the price at which you could sell it and brokers may additionally charge commissions.

Holders of zero dividend preference shares will not be paid any dividends.

Objectives: The PRIIP's investment objective is to generate a gross redemption yield of 3.5%, by advancing the Gross ZDP Placing Proceeds to the Company. The fund launched at a price of 100 pence per share, with a pre-determined price of 110.8639 pence per share payable upon maturity.

Intended retail investor: Typical investors in the PRIIP are expected to be institutional investors and professionally advised or financially sophisticated investors, who can evaluate the merits and risks of such an investment and whom have sufficient resources to be able to bear any losses.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until maturity.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets.

We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class.

The Risk Indicator rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact your ability to realise your position.

However, this PRIIP does not include protection from future market performance. As such, the whole amount of your invested capital in the PRIIP is at risk and there can be no guarantee that you will receive back any, or the entire amount invested on the sale of shares in the PRIIP, or on redemption of the PRIIP on 02 April 2021.

Counterparty Risk: As the PRIIP is invested entirely with RM Secured Direct Lending PLC there is a concentration and exposure to that counterparty. In the event of a counterparty default, there is a significant exposure to financial loss.

Liquidity Risk: As shares trade via the secondary market, trading volumes may reduce, or shares may trade at a discount to their respective Net Asset Value, due to a variety of factors, such as market conditions, liquidity concerns or PRIIP performance. As a result shareholders may be unable to realise their investment at quoted market prices.

Market Risk: The price at which shares in the PRIIP are sold in the market has not historically tracked the PRIIP's net asset value per share.

The table shows the money you could get back until maturity under different scenarios, assuming that you invest £10,000.

The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with scenarios of other products.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past and are not an exact indicator. What you may get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment. Please refer to 'Objectives' on page 1, detailing the pre-determined share price payable upon maturity.

Furthermore, this information is compiled according to prescribed formulae which take into account, amongst other things, past performance. In the opinion of the Product Manufacturer, and based on the portfolio construction, the PRIIP is unlikely and not expected to achieve consistent performance in line with the Scenarios presented. The RM ZDP's will have a maximum redemption value on 02 April 2021 of 110.8639.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself and do not include any costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect the amount you get back.

What happens if RM ZDP PLC is unable to pay out?

The value of the shares in the PRIIP are directly impacted by the solvency status of RM Secured Direct Lending PLC. What are the costs?

Costs over time

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay may have on the investment return. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs (where applicable).

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. The figures assume that you invest £10,000. The figures are based on the assumption that the PRIIP will redeem in full on the redemption date as this is the projected outcome for all scenarios other than the stressed scenario.

The person selling to you or advising you about this PRIIP may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment overtime.
