Risk indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movement in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 3, which is a medium-low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium low level, and poor market conditions will likely impact the capacity for you to receive a positive return on your investment.

The following are some of the other risks materially relevant to the PRIIPS which are not considered in the summary risk indicator:

The fund uses derivatives to generate returns as well as to reduce the overall risk of the Fund. Using derivatives can involve a higher level of risk. A small movement in the price of an underlying investment may result in a disproportional large movement in the price of the derivative investment.

See prospectus for overall risk information.

The product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose all or some of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 5 years (recommended holding period), under different scenarios, for a £10,000 investment. The scenarios illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not consider the situation where we are not able to pay you.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not consider your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs consider one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. They include potential exit penalties. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. The figures assume you invest £10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.
