Risk considerations

Concentration risk - The fund may be concentrated in a limited number of geographical regions, industry sectors, markets and/or individual positions. This may result in large changes in the value of the fund, both up or down.

Currency risk - The fund may lose value as a result of movements in foreign exchange rates.

Operational risk - Operational processes, including those related to the safekeeping of assets, may fail. This may result in losses to the fund.

Performance risk - Investment objectives express an intended result but there is no guarantee that such a result will be achieved. Depending on market conditions and the macro economic environment, investment objectives may become more difficult to achieve.

Currency risk / hedged share class - The hedging of the share class may not be fully effective and residual currency exposure may remain.

Derivatives risk - Derivatives may be used to manage the portfolio efficiently. A derivative may not perform as expected, may create losses greater than the cost of the derivative and may result in losses to the fund.

IBOR risk - The transition of the financial markets away from the use of interbank offered rates (IBORs) to alternative reference rates may impact the valuation of certain holdings and disrupt liquidity in certain instruments. This may impact the investment performance of the fund.

Liquidity risk - In difficult market conditions, the fund may not be able to sell a security for full value or at all. This could affect performance and could cause the fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

Counterparty risk - The fund may have contractual agreements with counterparties. If a counterparty is unable to fulfil their obligations, the sum that they owe to the fund may be lost in part or in whole.

Higher volatility risk - The price of this fund may be volatile as it may take higher risks in search of higher rewards.

Market risk - The value of investments can go up and down and an investor may not get back the amount initially invested.
