Risk Factors

Charges to Capital

These funds take part or all of the annual management charges from capital rather than the income generated by the fund, increasing the potential for the capital value of your investment to be eroded.

Derivative Exposure

The fund can invest in derivatives for the purpose of Efficient Portfolio Management (EPM). Investors should be aware that the use of these instruments can, under certain circumstances, increase the volatility and risk profile of the Fund beyond that expected of a fund that only invests in equities. The fund may also be exposed to the risk that the company issuing the derivative may not honour their obligations which in turn could lead to losses arising.

Exchange Rate

The value of investments and any income from them may decrease or increase as a result of changes in exchange rates between currencies.

Inflation

Inflation will reduce the real value of your investments in future.

Long Term Investments

Fixed income investment should be regarded as long term investments.

Returns are not guaranteed

What you receive when you sell your investment is not guaranteed, it depends on how your investments perform.

Taxation and tax relief

Levels of taxation and tax relief are subject to change.

Value of Investments

The value of investments and the income you receive from them can fall as well as rise.

Yield-to-Maturity

Yield to Maturity ('YTM') is an estimate of the average annual percentage return that will be received should all the bonds in the fund be held until their maturity dates and assuming they all make the promised payments. The main difference between this yield measure and the more familiar running yield is that it takes account of the fact that, at maturity, any bond should pay out at its face value, even though it may currently be trading above or below that face value. The YTM does not account for the risk that the issuers of the bonds may fail to meet their obligations, in which case the returns will be lower.

Yield-to-Worst

Yield-to-Worst ("YTW") is an estimate of the lowest yield that will be received on the bond holdings without the issuers actually defaulting. The YTW is calculated by making worst-case scenario assumptions and calculating the return that would be received if each issuer uses provisions, including prepayments, calls or sinking funds. It is not the actual worst yield that will be received, as the true worst case will be in the event that one or more issuers fail to meet their obligations to the investors in a bond.

Modified Duration

Modified duration measures the price sensitivity of a bond in a response to a change in interest rates.

Option Adjusted Duration

The Option Adjusted Duration ("OAD") is similar to Duration, it is a measurement of sensitivity to changes in interest rates but also takes account of any special features of the bonds held such as the right of the issuer to change the terms of the bond under certain circumstances. Together, the Duration and OAD are guides to the sensitivity of the fund to changes in market interest rates which are typically, in particular, affected by changes in expectations about future inflation.
