Practical Investment Fund

Unit Class: Income Units

ISIN Code: GB0006982457

Manager: Consistent Unit Trust Management Company Limited

Objectives and investment policy

The Trust is designed to provide investors with above average capital growth and increasing income from investment in a wide spread of UK and dollar denominated investment trusts, ordinary shares and other selected investments.

The investment policy for achieving the objective is for the Manager to invest primarily in the shares of a wide range of sterling and dollar denominated investment trusts, company shares and other investments.

Investment trusts are companies which invest in various assets and can be traded on a stock exchange, similarly to a normal company share. They themselves can invest worldwide and in any industry. The Trust will choose investment trusts which have good potential to grow income, and which are attractively priced.

The Trust may utilise the scheme property for the purpose of Efficient Portfolio Management (EPM).

Dealing frequency

Units in the Trust may be bought or sold before 12 noon on any day which is a business day in the UK.

Distribution policy

Any income is paid bi-annually.

Investor profile

The Trust may be suitable for investors who see collective investment schemes as a convenient way of participating in investment markets. It may be suitable for investors wishing to seek to achieve defined investment objectives.

This Trust may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

For full investment objectives and policy details please refer to the prospectus.

Risk and reward profile

The unit class is ranked in risk category 6 as its price has experienced much higher than average rises and falls historically.

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Trust. The risk category shown is not a target or a guarantee and may change over time. Investors are advised that the lowest category does not mean a risk free investment.

The risk indicator for this Trust reflects the following:

The value of investments in the Trust and the income from them may go down as well as up and you may not get back your original investment when you sell your units.

During unusual market conditions, the risks normally experienced by the Trust may increase significantly, and in addition, the Trust may be subject to the following risks.

Counterparty risk (including derivative): The Trust is subject to the risk of the inability of any counterparty to perform with respect to transactions whether due to insolvency, bankruptcy or other losses.

Currency risk: Fluctuations in currency may adversely affect the value of the Trust's investments and income thereon.

Default risk: The issuers of certain bonds could become unable to make payments on their bonds.

Liquidity risk: During difficult market conditions, some securities may become hard to value or sell at a desired price.

Credit and Fixed Interest risk: Fixed interest securities are particularly affected by trends in interest rates and inflation. If interest rates go up, the value of capital may fall, and vice versa. Inflation will also decrease the real value of capital.

Investment Trusts: such investments may expose investors to increased risk due to less strict regulations and the use of derivatives. The price of investment trusts may not reflect the value of the assets they hold. This can result in wide price changes of the investment trust shares.

Management risk: Investment management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental in extreme market conditions.

Charges to Capital Account: If expenses from the Trust are deducted from capital, rather than income (as allowable). This may increase the amount of income available for distribution, but may also constrain capital growth.

For full details of all the risks that could affect the Trust, please refer to the Prospectus.
