Tekcapital plc
("Tekcapital", the "Company" or the "Group")
Unaudited Half-yearly Report for the period ending 30 June 2024
Net Assets increased ~46% to US$69.8m

Tekcapital Plc (AIM: TEK), the UK intellectual property investment group focused on transforming university technologies into valuable products that can improve people's lives, is pleased to announce its results for the six-month period ended 30 June 2024.

Dr. Clifford M. Gross, Chairman said:

"We are excited to report significant progress across our portfolio companies. This has resulted in the growth of our Net Assets during the period by ~ 46% reaching US$69.8m with an NAV per share of US$0.35.

"Our first half performance reflects strong commercial progress of the portfolio companies during the period. I'm delighted that each portfolio company has grown its respective revenues this year, validating our investment case for each company and the Tekcapital investment process.

"I believe Tekcapital is at an inflection point. With all but two portfolio companies trading publicly including recently incorporated GenIP, Tekcapital has never had greater flexibility to manage its cash position and seize new opportunities in a manner we believe will create shareholder value. We have demonstrated this post-period with the measured monetisation of a portion of our Belluscura investment. Tekcapital will remain committed long-term investors in Belluscura and other technologies we believe have the potential to improve the lives of a great number of people and will proactively manage our portfolio to maximise long-term value creation for our shareholders.

"As part of our strategy to create value from innovative technologies, we launched GenIP this summer. We feel its forthcoming IPO will provide UK-focused investors with a unique opportunity to secure exposure to the fast-growing Generative AI analytics market.

"Elsewhere in the portfolio, Microsalt Plc and Innovative Eyewear Inc. have recorded significant milestones in 2024 and are well placed for further growth as standalone listed companies.

"Guident has made material progress in commercialising its autonomous vehicle safety solutions, and revenue generation has increased accordingly. We believe improving market conditions and Guident's commercial advancements are creating the ideal opportunity for Tekcapital to crystallise the balance sheet value held in the company while providing a greater pool of investors the chance to join us in the next phase of Guident's scale-up. As previously announced, Guident is seeking a private investment round and, once consummated, should have the investor support for a range of possible future funding opportunities, including an initial public offering."

Chairman's statement

Tekcapital brings innovations from laboratory to market. We commercialise university intellectual property, a process known as technology transfer. In the first half of 2024, our key portfolio companies continued to make significant progress and we are bullish on their future performance.

We continue to believe that when you couple commercialisation ready, compelling university IP with strong senior management, you increase the probability that vibrant companies will emerge, net assets will grow, returns on invested capital are likely to increase over time and exits, if they occur, should happen faster. When we realise material exits, the Group's goal is to distribute a portion of the proceeds as a special dividend to our shareholders.

A common theme across our portfolio companies is that they have proprietary intellectual property, capable management, and if successful over the long-term, can improve the quality of life for the customers they serve.

The Company's key investments include:

Microsalt plc (www.microsalt.co)

MicroSalt® manufactures a new patented salt that tastes great, can be used just about everywhere traditional salt is used, yet delivers full flavour with approximately half the sodium of regular salt.

Investment Rationale: The food industry is focused on developing and providing better-for-you products that taste good but enable reduced sodium consumption. The reason for this is that excess sodium consumption contributes to cardiovascular disease, a leading cause of premature death globally. According to the WHO, "Almost all populations are consuming too much sodium. The global mean intake of adults is 4310 mg/day sodium (equivalent to 10.78 g/day salt). This is more than double the World Health Organization recommendation for adults of less than 2000 mg/day sodium (equivalent to < 5 g/day salt). The primary health effect associated with diets high in sodium is raised blood pressure, increasing the risk of cardiovascular diseases, gastric cancer, obesity, osteoporosis, Meniere's disease, and kidney disease. An estimated 1.89 million deaths each year are associated with consuming too much sodium. Reducing sodium intake is one of the most cost-effective measures to improve health and reduce the burden of non-communicable diseases: for every US$1 invested in scaling up sodium reduction interventions, there will be a return of at least US$12."¹

Lucyd Ltd (www.lucyd.co)

LUCYD and its U.S. subsidiary Innovative Eyewear Inc. is seeking to UPGRADE YOUR EYEWEAR® by producing designer eyewear with smart features at affordable prices. Their frames help you stay connected safely, ergonomically and with designer styling.

Investment Rationale: Pedestrian fatalities are at a 40 year high². This is due primarily because drivers and pedestrians alike are distracted with their smartphones. Approximately 2/3 of the population wear corrective lenses. Bluetooth technology has evolved, enabling it to be incorporated into traditionally sized designer eyewear. This enables eyeglass wearers to remain connected to their digital lives such as when taking calls and listening to music while maintaining situational awareness. Individuals can keep their phones in their pocket and no ear buds are required, as the eyeglass frames contain miniature speakers and microphones. Much as the smart watch business has begun to eclipse the traditional watch business, we believe smart eyewear will follow suit.

Guident Ltd (www.guident.co)

¹ <https://www.who.int/news-room/fact-sheets/detail/salt-reduction>

² <https://www.npr.org/2023/06/26/1184034017/us-pedestrian-deaths-high-traffic-car>

Guident Ltd seeks to improve the safety and efficiency of autonomous vehicles and land-based delivery drones with a software platform that enables the remote monitoring and control of these vehicles to rapidly resolve any mishaps.

Investment Rationale: Vehicles of all types are rapidly becoming electric and autonomous. While AV's are projected to be significantly safer than traditional vehicles, there will still be mishaps and in many instances there will be no vehicle operator present to help resolve these problems. Guident's remote monitoring and control centre will monitor vehicles and if necessary, provide additional support such as call a first responder, take over control of the vehicle to move it out of harm's way and provide real-time communication with passengers or pedestrians.

Belluscura plc (www.belluscura.com)

Respiratory medical device company that has developed an improved portable oxygen concentrator (POC) to provide on-the-go supplemental O₂. The company's products are the first FDA cleared devices that enable the user to upgrade the filter cartridge to provide a greater flow of oxygen as a patient's disease progresses, thereby obviating the need to purchase a new POC.

Investment Rationale: Approximately 300m individuals suffer from COPD. Many of these patients require supplemental oxygen to perform activities of daily living. According to the WHO, COPD is the third leading cause of death in the world causing 3.23 million premature deaths per year.³ As there is no cure for COPD, over time patients require greater amounts of oxygen, and if they use a portable oxygen concentrator, this means they must replace their devices with devices with greater capacity as their disease progresses. With Belluscura's new patented device, users can exchange the filter cartridges to enable higher capacity oxygen flow without having to change the device they are using. Like upgrading memory on a laptop. The result is the potential to reduce the cost and increase the availability of oxygen therapy for patients that need POC's.

GenIP plc (www.GenIP.ai)

GenIP uses generative artificial intelligence aimed at empowering companies to better evaluate and commercialise technological discoveries through its services.

Investment Rationale: The GenAI market is currently experiencing exponential growth. In 2023, 426 start-ups received total funding in excess of US$21 billion. GenIP provides Services to evaluate new technologies and identify capable individuals to market those technologies. We believe the incorporation of GenAI large language models (LLMs) into these services will help companies, research institutions and venture funds mitigate adverse selection, improve returns on invested capital and more efficiently deploy capital to produce useful businesses that can become financially successful and contribute to the quality of life of the customers they serve.

Financial performance

In the first half of 2024 we reported unrealized gain in our portfolio totaling US$20.5m, primarily due to the increase in fair value of Microsalt plc upon its IPO. Microsalt has increased in value and Guident has remained relatively constant in value since the last reporting period. Our Net Assets increased to US$69.8m and our Net Assets per share to US$0.35 (27p).

Fundraisings

In H1 2024, we closed share placements totaling US$2.5m. Proceeds were used primarily to accelerate the commercial progress and IPO readiness of Microsalt and fuel the further fabrication and testing of Guident's regenerative shock absorbers coupled with building Guident's new remote monitoring and control centre in Boca Raton, Florida. This contributed to a corresponding increase in the Group's portfolio company investments during the period and helped enable both Microsalt and Guident to maintain their growth and accelerate their market traction. Additionally, we used a portion of the proceeds to develop a new Generative AI services business and for the full repayment of an intercompany loan.

Current Trading and Outlook

We are pleased with the performance of our portfolio companies and we are bullish in our belief that they will continue to grow from strength to strength. We are executing on our strategy, and this should result in increases in returns on invested capital as our portfolio companies continue to mature and achieve meaningful milestones, which we hope to see in the next year.

Whilst the Company is progressing very well, please note that our net asset values and revenues will fluctuate from period to period, sometimes significantly, due to individual portfolio company performance, valuations and changes in market conditions and macro-economic financial conditions including recent strains of the Coronavirus and residual inflationary pressures from the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

We continue to be grateful for the patience and support of our shareholders and we are sincerely appreciative of our dedicated, and incredibly hardworking team without whom none of the results reported herein would be possible. Tekcapital has set about reducing its cost base post-period by streamlining its operations. Tekcapital's strengths lie in identifying technology with strong chances of commercial success and creating shareholder value in a transaction-focused approach to achieving growth. Recent strategic decisions underscore our relentless commitment to maximising shareholder returns by increasing our portfolio's value coupled with managing costs.

3.1 Statement of compliance

The accounting policies applied by the Group and its subsidiaries in these unaudited half year results are consistent with those applied in the annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2023.

The financial statements of Tekcapital PLC Group have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and IFRS Interpretations Committee (IFRS IC) as adopted by the United Kingdom and the Companies Act 2006. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in note 4 of the FY 2023 accounts. The estimates that changed since then are disclosed in Note 7.

4. Going concern

The 2024 interim financial information has been prepared on a going concern basis.

The Group and Company meet its day to day working capital requirements through its service offerings, monetisation of quoted equity stakes and monies raised through issues of equity.

The Group's forecasts and projections indicate that the Group and Company have sufficient cash reserves to operate within the level of its current funds. The Group has no third party debt facilities.

The Directors have prepared detailed cash flow projections for the period to 30 September 2025 ("going concern assessment period"). The cash flow projections have been subjected to sensitivity analysis which demonstrates that the Group and Company will maintain a positive cash balance through the going concern assessment period.

The Directors have also considered the geo-political environment, including rising inflation, and whilst the impact on the Group is currently deemed minimal, the Directors remain vigilant.

On this basis, the Directors have therefore concluded that it is appropriate to prepare this financial information on a going concern basis.

Intellectual Property Risk Factors

Tekcapital's mission is to create valuable products from university intellectual property that can improve people's lives. Therefore, our ability to compete in the market may be negatively affected if our portfolio companies lose some or all of their intellectual property rights, if patent rights that they rely on are invalidated, or if they are unable to obtain other intellectual property rights. Our success will depend on the ability of our portfolio companies to obtain and protect patents on their technology and products, to protect their trade secrets, and for them to maintain their rights to licensed intellectual property or technologies. Their patent applications or those of our licensors may not result in the issue of patents in the United States or other countries. Their patents or those of their licensors may not afford meaningful protection for our technology and products. Others may challenge their patents or those of their licensors by proceedings such as interference, oppositions and re-examinations or in litigation seeking to establish the invalidity of their patents. In the event that one or more of their patents are challenged, a court may invalidate the patent(s) or determine that the patent(s) is not enforceable, which could harm their competitive position and ours. If one or more of our portfolio company patents are invalidated or found to be unenforceable, or if the scope of the claims in any of these patents is limited by a court decision, our portfolio companies could lose certain market exclusivity afforded by patents owned or in-licensed by us and potential competitors could more easily bring products to the market that directly compete with our own. The uncertainties and costs surrounding the prosecution of their patent applications and the cost of enforcement or defense of their issued patents could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

To protect or enforce their patent rights, our portfolio companies may initiate interference proceedings, oppositions, re-examinations or litigation against others. However, these activities are expensive, take significant time and divert management's attention from other business concerns. They may not prevail in these activities. If they are not successful in these activities, the prevailing party may obtain superior rights to our claimed inventions and technology, which could adversely affect their ability of our portfolio companies to successfully market and commercialise their products and services. Claims by other companies may infringe the intellectual property rights on which our portfolio companies rely, and if such rights are deemed to be invalid it could adversely affect our portfolio companies and ourselves as investors in these companies.

From time to time, companies may assert patent, copyright and other intellectual proprietary rights against our portfolio company's products or technologies. These claims can result in the future in lawsuits being brought against our portfolio companies or their holding company. They and we may not prevail in any lawsuits alleging patent infringement given the complex technical issues and inherent uncertainties in intellectual property litigation. If any of our portfolio company products, technologies or activities, from which our portfolio companies derive or expect to derive a substantial portion of their revenues and were found to infringe on another company's intellectual property rights, they could be subject to an injunction that would force the removal of such product from the market or they could be required to redesign such product, which could be costly. They could also be ordered to pay damages or other compensation, including punitive damages and attorneys' fees to such other company. A negative outcome in any such litigation could also severely disrupt the sales of their marketed products to their customers, which in turn could harm their relationships with their customers, their market share and their product revenues. Even if they are ultimately successful in defending any intellectual property litigation, such litigation is expensive and time consuming to address, will divert our management's attention from their business and may harm their reputation and ours.

Several of our portfolio companies may be subject to complex and costly regulation and if government regulations are interpreted or enforced in a manner adverse to them, they may be subject to enforcement actions, penalties, exclusion, and other material limitations on their operations that could have a negative impact on their financial performance. All of the above-listed risks can have a material, negative affect on our net asset value, revenue, performance and the success of our business and the portfolio companies we have invested in.
